Raeburn Fine Wines - in a few words:

Raeburn is a family owned wine importer and distributor. We are Edinburgh based, with a London office since 2010. Our buying focus is the classics of France and Italy, for ~85% of the list, and from clean farming (more of which elsewhere.)
 For all the temptation of the 'rest ofs', it has to be really good for us to really want to do it...and then of course we love it. A pivotal moment was picking up many of the greats of Italy in the late 1990s. Or more recently, Prager & Pichler-Krutzler. Many growers joined the list in 80s & 90s, which suddenly seems like a generation ago, many now old friends.
 We avoid technical '90s/00s international wine', and unless it's brilliant, we avoid the faulty, flawed, funky end of hyper-natural. For somewhere in the middle lies a sweet spot of science and culture informed artisan-craftsmanship, 'where ethics meets excellence.'
 Raeburn started in wine in the early 1980s: the business is principally built around trade-sales.
 The name comes from Raeburn Mews over the road, one of many Edinburgh streets developed and named by painter Sir Henry Raeburn (1756-1823) with his wife Lady Ann (1744-1833.)

The Porter Stone:

The Raeburn logo (above) is a reworking of The Porter Stone, aka Stingmen Stane. The 1678 original was first erected on Tolbooth Wynd, as a sign of the Guild of Porters at the Port of Leith. It depicts the boats that brought wine by the cask up from Bordeaux et al, the child-powered(!) crane, the two man carrying crew that deposited casks in The Vaults cellars (now Raeburn's), often for auction upstairs in the Vintners' Room. For our recent label Die Kluisse (The Vaults) we wrote on the back label:
'The Vaults are some of the oldest commercial cellars in the UK, dug in the 12th Century. Their thick granite walls allow a humid 12° Celsius year round, simply ideal for wine. Built into the walls, and portrayed on the front label, is the Porters' Stone, aka Stingmen Stane, dated 1678, the original of which lies in The Museum of Scotland. It pays respect to the guild who moved wine off the ships (with long since retired equipment) into cellars like The Vaults on the bottom right hand corner. It affords us a unique glimpse back to this historic centre of the British wine trade at the port of Leith.' It is now an updated monument.
 The new Porter Stone was completed by sculptor Shawn Williamson in 1990 in Cop Cragg sandstone, and affixed to The Vaults perimeter wall. In 1985 Shawn started a 20 year spell under Josefina de Vasconcellos, whom as a young woman studied under Antoine Bourdelle at the Académie de la Grande Chaumière in Paris. Bourdelle had in turn been assistant sculptor to Auguste Rodin.

List introduction:

The Raeburn tariffs:

The Main Tariff includes everything that we ship. There is also a refreshingly short +/-15 page Quick Tariff. Both are available in Excel and PDF. The Burgundy EP offer comes out late January. Just tell us which you prefer.

Focus selections and 'runners':

At the back of this list are our selections of 'running wines', based solely on accessible price. This is followed by dozens of focus selections of wines sorted by special attributes. E.g. ungrafted, tres vieilles vignes, long elevation, high altitude, monopoles, un sulphited, female ownership, art/design-led labels, hommages. It's the most fun section of the list: geeky wine for wine geeks.

Product information:

We've an ever growing collection of information sheets & press cuttings. Plus, some growers have very splendid websites. Work has started on an updated website, mostly to share background information on the wineries and their wines.

Provenance & maturing stocks:

Traditional stockholders, we have large, well stored stocks. We can therefore pass on some amazing value and drinkability. Historically we ship maybe 99% of our wine from producers, avoiding risk of fakes, poor shipping &/or storage.

A note on agricultural nomenclature:

The Raeburn Fine Wines trade tariff outlines most producers' general approach to agriculture. Producers working in various schools of reduced treatments are (still) described as Sustainable agriculture. Some are Sustainable Certified: this is the fastest growing sector in wine today. Producers certified as Organic, or Biodynamic, are described as such. Those who would comply with certification bodies' guidelines, but are not certified, are described in inverted commas as 'organic-uncertified' (aka 'practising-organic') or 'biodynamic-uncertified.' The reason for listing it in this way is to communicate between wine professionals, in plain English. Please be aware that uncertified wines simply ought not to be described as organic or biodynamic to the public. As always in wine, trust in producers' qualitative and ethical ideas and actions, counts for more than scores and awards, classifications and certifications combined. NB The precise current farming status of most producers can be checked, upon request.

NB the history of ethical wine-farming etc. is now a separate document, downloadable on the Raeburn Wines website.

Environmental footprint:

In Spring 2022, the following picture emerges of the ~250 producers we regularly buy from (excluding Bordeaux):

- Organic &/or Biodynamic: 55% of producers, half with certification,
- Sustainable: 30% of producers, half certified, e.g. by HVE or Terre Vitis. This includes growers in 'lutte raisonnée' & 'I.P.M.'
- Mixed sources: 6% of growers work with two or more genres of farming, including some sustainable, organic &/or biodynamic

In conclusion, somewhere between 85 & 90% of (non-Bordeaux) growers are not in full chemical farming, which is heartening.

The dominant trend by far is take-up of certified sustainable schemes, nowhere more so than Bordeaux and Champagne.

In Spring 2023, the following picture emerges from 132 Bordeaux Chateaux that we currently hold. The result is very improved:

- Organic &/or Biodynamic: 24%, with 91% certified! Sustainable 34%, half certified. The remainder being conventional/unknown.

The main tariff in numbers:

In Spring 2022 we listed some 4475 different wines, broken down below. (It was just 3000 the previous time we checked.)

- By colour: 2800 red, >1100 dry white, 30 rosé, 20 orange.
- By age: 10 to 20yrs old, 760 wines; 20 to 30yrs, 80 wines; 30+yrs >40 wines.
- By genre: 100 sparkling wines, >210 sweet white, >60 sweet red, >80 fortified, plus 35 sake and 80 spirits.
- By size: mostly 75cl bottles, then 185 halves, >600 magnums, >100 jeroboams aka double mags, plus the odd 5 litre...
- By price bracket: <£10 x70, £10-£20 x1050, £20-£30 x1035, £30-£50 x970, £50-£100 x810, >£100 x350 wines
- By key regions: over 1800 Burgundies: 380 white burg, 1440 red burg. 520 Austrian & Germans (i.e. >1/2 the list in 4 grapes)

Vegan compatible (V):

We updated our known (V) Vegan compatible wineries in 2017, after many requests. Over 55% are known to comply. At present, the question relates to materials used in fining, i.e. clarifying the wine. It does not relate to animal traction, or use of propolis sprays. NB most all wine is vegetarian.

Searchability:

Both Excel and PDF versions are fully searchable by any keyword.

E.g., by grower, region, appellation, country, vintage, size in cls. By grape variety, in wines labelled as varietal.

E.g. by Organic, Biodynamic, sustainable, (V) Vegan compatible, ambient yeast, SO2 (where low-to-no added)

To search in EXCEL: hit 'CTRL+F'. Or, click on 'Find & Select', choose option 'Find.'

Enter search word. Click 'Find All.' You can then continue clicking 'Find Next' until results are exhausted.

To search the PDF in Adobe Acrobat Reader: again, hit 'CTRL+F'. Or, click on the magnifying glass search icon.

Or, click on tab 'Edit', and select option 'Find'. Enter search word.

Two warehouses:

Our bonded warehouse in London is LCB's London-Tilbury. In Edinburgh, our cellars The Vaults are thought to be the oldest working cellars in Britain, from the 12th Century. Many wines are in both locations.

NB if an item is ONLY lying in The Vaults, it is usually marked (VAULTS) on the list.

NB Orders combining wine from both places count as two orders, two deliveries. We always try to facilitate.

Raeburn Fine Wines:

We remain wine-people importing wines we consider to be worth selling, drinking, thinking about, for our clients. Most of whom are wine-conscious, hence the somewhat unapologetic list layout. We spend >three months of the year buying, only possible with Humair & Taher, our warehouse team, our logistics partners LCB and ParcelForce patiently running things. For which, thanks.

AUGUSTIN ON AUGUSTIN:

Motto 'Couerviticulture: winemaking with a heart'

M&E 'The World is a single entity and every action generates a reaction. Let's choose positive actions which promote harmony.'

M&E 'Vines form the bridge between the earth and man. Earth vines and man form the magic triptych which governs our grape production.'

Three components, three entities, three living things. Singly, they have no meaning, but all three interact with each other.'

M&E 'Respect for air quality, water and biodiversity and special attention to protecting soil life ensure that the Augustin terroir is faithfully reflected in its wines.'

Marc 'From the very outset, my aim has been to practise green viticulture, leaving the smallest possible footprint on the environment in which we live.'

M&E 'We need to move away from overly mechanised approaches and combine the sensitivity of our hearts with the power of thought.'

Marc 'My vineyard is like a canvas. Beauty emerges if you take the very best of each element, allow the alchemy to operate. This is how our cuvées are created.'

Marc "'Couerviticulture": being a winemaker with a heart is about putting one's heart into making wine'

M&E 'Sometimes you have to remember to listen to what your inner voice is telling you'

M&E '2012 was a dreadful year; my vines suffered appallingly and I suffered on their behalf. Emmanuelle made the link and noticed this connection.'

Since then, we have decided to make a fresh start and produce our champagne in line with our own values.'

Marc 'Now it is my turn to improve what I will be passing on.'

Champagne O2 Rosée aka EAU (vv)

sp.p 'nv' 75/6

Champagne Rosé Gaia (vv)*

sp.p 'nv' 75/6

TERRE: The earth represents the maternal element which is solid and stable. An organic-flavoured, powerful, elegant cuvée. It embodies structure, dry matter, and minerality.

FEU: Fire is hot, radiant, unrestrained and unpredictable. A bright, harmonious, invigorating cuvée. Its heat can transform and its varying degrees of intensity make it versatile.

EAU: Cuvée O2 Rosée is water, the fourth element. The epilogue of the elemental range. Water is source of life, without water nothing is possible. Man and Water are one and the same...

GAÏA: After harvest, the grapes are pressed 100 meters away. Two seasons later, after bottling, GAÏA is brought back to Grigny and buried, the soil becomes a cellar for 24 months 'geomaturation.' The perfect alchemy CXVI aka 116: aka sans soufre ajouté - jeux de mots at it's best. The apogée.

KIND WORDS ON H.BILLIOT, etc.:

Peter Liem 'Billiot's wines are packed with plenty of flavor, yet at their best, they combine their depth with a rare elegance and harmony that sets them apart from many of their peers.'

Galloni, 2018 'Billiot Champagnes are quirky yet highly intriguing.'

Galloni, 2016 'at their best they capture the breadth and intensity that makes Ambonnay such a unique place within...Champagne'

Galloni, 2013 'one of my favorite growers in Ambonnay. Billiot Champagnes are generally vinous, warm and resonant, a combination of classic Ambonnay signatures and vinification in oak, an approach used for (Cuvée Julie)'

Galloni, 2011 'Billiot, a small, family-run winery in Ambonnay, is well worth a visit.'

Galloni, 2009 'The Billiot family farms a total of 5 hectares in Ambonnay, where Pinot Noir reigns supreme. These unfiltered, low-dosage, no-malo Champagnes are exceptionally pure and loaded with personality.'

Galloni, 2008 'some of the finest Champagnes being made today... This is a superb set of wines from top to bottom.'

Laetitia Billiot 'The wines of Ambonnay are very vinous, with a lot of strength, but they are also very fine, with delicacy and finesse. They stay fresh...'

KIND WORDS ON THE SPECIAL CUVÉES:

Galloni, 2020 'Cuvée Laetitia is terrific, especially in the way it balances energy with the richness of Ambonnay. The addition of reserve wines back to 1983 adds considerable nuance and complexity. The are some rough edges, but also enough personality to look past them.'

Galloni, 2019 'Cuvée Laetitia is positively stellar. Moreover, it captures the Billiot house style at its very best. ...tons of allure. But what I like most... is a sense of energy that provides striking cut to play off the natural richness of Ambonnay. Much of that comes from the presence of Chardonnay'

Galloni, 2018 'Cuvée Laetitia is striking in the way it brings together the richness this wine is known for with a good bit of freshness to balance things out. Layered and dense on the palate, with striking aromatic presence, the Cuvée Laetitia is quirky, but also fascinating in its own way.'

Galloni 2015 'Cuvée Laetitia shows just how compelling the Billiot Champagnes can be. Deep, powerful and nicely layered in the glass, the Cuvée Laetitia offers striking depth and power. The Laetitia is 60% Chardonnay and 40% Pinot Noir, but it is the textural resonance of Ambonnay that is most evident. This is a terrific example of the Billiot style at its best.'

Galloni, 2016 '2012 Brut Millésimé is a big, powerful wine that captures the natural intensity of Ambonnay. Even so, the 2012 is raw, tightly wound and in need of cellaring despite its considerable appeal and potential. There is no shortage of intensity to the dry, bracing finish.'

Galloni, 2009 'The 2002 Brut Millésime literally shimmers on the palate with stunning richness and power. With time in the glass, the wine's more refined qualities come to life, completing this magnificent Champagne. Simply put, this is stunning juice.'

France, Bordeaux - an introduction:

AVAILABILITY:

NB Wines marked 'next' in the price column have been bought by Raeburn Fine Wines en primeur and are mostly lying in Bordeaux. Yes, they can be bought. They will still be shipped into the UK by Raeburn according to our shipping cycles, before delivery. Please ignore such listings for ALL requirements with ANY time- sensitivity, and work with physically available wine instead. We don't split cases on many '1GCC' level wines. Just ask for any clarification - thanks.

FOREWORD:

Raeburn have always been committed Bordeaux lovers. It's the wine that got most of us into wine in the first place. We are overjoyed by the regional drive to more ethical farming practices, which has the highest take up rate ever seen, combined with a return to balance and good taste (not god taste) in most cellars.

The world's largest fine wine region (~120K ha), which, along with the Douro, invented the very notion of bottling fine wine for in-bottle maturation, has got its mojo back. There might be a risk of a generation of Bordeaux bashers being lured back in...

There are all sorts of businesses, from auteur artisans to corporate structures, via family dynasties old and new. The same can be said of the wines: there are literally endless exciting possibilities open to winegrowers, including new cask & closure developments. Some of the best wines of today have a sense of lightness and completeness that is utterly captivating. Burgundian, dare we say it?

This does not mean that we are not highly critical of some Chateaux in recent decades - no one wants to ever taste 15% abv extracted merlot from cheap new underseasoned high-toast casks, bottled under cheap cork, ever again.

CLASSIFICATIONS:

Lastly, classifications have been systematically omitted due to being out of date, or irrelevant. Reference classifications of today include the newly rebooted Crus Bourgeois du Médoc with mandatory HVE certification, and Pomerol, who have dodged the trap. In all cases, there are better ways to assess the wines. (Quality, price, farming, style, availability, etc.)

UPDATED:

NB Where mentioned, encapagement is described as ratio of hectares of the classic varieties, as reported in 2022. It is not usually or necessarily the blend in any wine made. The Bordeaux section was largely updated from December 2022 to Summer 2023.

KIND WORDS ON GRAND VILLAGE, etc.:

Jancis Robinson MW, 2021 'excellent'

Jancis Robinson MW, 2021 '(blanc) obviously made with enormous care and attention. Quite an impact on the inside of the mouth'

Jancis Robinson MW, 2021 'no fly-by-night varietal Sauvignon but a wine to be proud of serving the most discriminating guest'

Jancis Robinson MW, 2020 'This (blanc) is a serious food wine that we've followed since 2004.'

Jancis Robinson MW, 2020 '(the blanc) gets better...with every vintage...I could almost imagine mistaking it for a young (Domaine de) Chevalier'

Famille Guinaudeau 'the second vineyard of Lafleur'

B+D Guide (Bettane) 'Magisterial. Wooded luxury and very delicate, in the style of d'Yquem, botrytis carefully selected, great breadth, a complex and racy liqueur. A grand wine' (on Chateau 2000)

R.Parker, TWA 1997 'I have applauded recent efforts of this estate, which goes to unprecedented lengths as well as labor to produce the most amazing sweet wines I have ever tasted. ... That being said, there is no doubt in my mind that the 1995 Cuvee Madame is as profound a sweet wine as I have ever tasted. ... As is the case with so many of the world's greatest wines, the production is insignificant.'

R.Parker, TWA 1996 'with microscopic vinifications such as this, it is easier to achieve near perfection. ... It is an understatement to say these are the greatest wines I have ever tasted from Monbazillac; in fact, they are among the greatest sweet wines I have tasted ... from anywhere!'

GOISOT ON GOISOT:

Goisot family motto: 'L'Empreinte du terroir'

Goisot family 'Nous sommes fiers de produire un vin authentique, sain pour l'homme et la nature.'

Jean-Hugues 'Le vin se vinifie dans la vigne et non dans la cave'

Guilhem, 2019 'If the wine's good it will always sell – maybe there are times when it sells slower, but it will still sell.'

Guilhem, 2016 'luckily we have no vines at the bottom of hills, should there be a hard, extended frost.'

Guilhem, 2014 'our chardonnays show the minerality of Chablis, we have the same limestone, but with a warmer, drier climate that adds a little CDB richness.'

KIND WORDS ON GOISOT:

RVF Le Guide 2016 - 2* (i.e. TOP 6) producer of the Yonne - incl. Chablis

RVF Le Guide 'une qualité très élevée'

RVF Le Guide 'les rouges...sont remarquables'

Anne-Claude Leflaive 'a super star!'

b+d Guide 'certainly one of the greatest Yonne estates... totally biodynamic and making wines of remarkable purity and concentration ... Simply stunning.'

N.Martin, 2021 'amazing consistency throughout his lineup, which remain ridiculously well priced given the care that goes into them & the resulting quality.'

N.Martin, Aug.2018 'one of the most interesting and exciting growers in Burgundy'

N.Martin, Aug.2018 'unbeatable value for money given the effort and passion that goes into the farming & winemaking here'

N.Martin, Aug.2018 'excellent, distinctive wines that are both delicious and cerebral'

Allen Meadows, Burghound #32 'The wines...deliver flat out amazing quality'

Allen Meadows, Burghound #32 'no one but no one delivers more quality for the price'

Allen Meadows, Burghound #32 '...it's worth repeating that I highly recommend these wines'

Clive Coates MW, 2008 'This is a splendid source... After a couple of years in bottle, these are admirable wines.'

BILL NANSON OF BURGUNDY-REPORT.COM ON GOISOT:

Bill Nanson, 2020 'in 2018 the whole range is quite special. Fortunately for you and I, there is also some volume for the first time in a few years!'

Bill Nanson, 2019 '2017. A very strong white wine vintage chez Goisot – the reds are good to excellent – there is much greatness to be found in their whites'

Bill Nanson, 2018 '90% was lost in 2016 – that some wines hint at greatness and others are simply great, is an incredible result!'

Bil Nanson, 2017 'The reverse of 2014, I find the reds proportionately performing better in this 2015 vintage.'

Bill Nanson, 2016 '2014. A couple of great reds here, likewise the whites'

Bill Nanson, Burg Report 2017 'Bravo!'

Bill Nanson, 2017 'As always, simply a joy to taste at this domaine'

Bill Nanson, 2014 'The wines here are simply first class.'

Bill Nanson, 2014 'I have to say that they also offered me something of the conversion on the road to Damascus – the St.Bris'

Bill Nanson, 2014 'these sauvignons are not really sauvignons, they're Burgundies and largely tasted more like Burgundy wines than SB. I was incredibly impressed'

Bill Nanson, 2020 'In a marginal ripeness year the reds here can have a more herbed character'

KIND WORDS ON ARLAUD:

Bruce Sanderson, Wine Spectator, 2020 'Morey-St.-Denis Magic'

S.Ohman, Winehog 2021 'Arlaud is producing some magnificent wines...year by year the connoisseur's awareness of them increases.'

S.Ohman, Winehog 2017 'To be honest I quite adore the wines of Domaine Arlaud...lightfooted, airy organic...forward & floral fruit'

N.Martin, 2017 'I was really impressed by Arlaud's wines... Cyprien has sagaciously reduced the percentage of new oak...My feeling is that Arlaud is entering a new chapter, a higher level of excellence that is going to be interesting to watch unfold.'

N.Martin, 2016 'discretely overseeing a range of very fine wines from some of the Côte de Nuits choice vineyards'

N.Martin, 2015 'I just love where this domaine is going. Cyprien is clearly a skilled winemaker who extracts the best from his enviable array of holdings. ...They have a sheen to them, a vitamin-like purity that truly comes into its own among the premier & grand crus.'

N.Martin, 2015 'Cyprien Arlaud is quietly going about making some very fine wines from his base in Morey. He's changed tack in recent vintages, and between 2005 and 2009, he reduced the level of new oak, to what he feels is a proportion that expresses freshness and terroir in his wines...

Personally, I have a lot of time for Cyprien Arlaud's wines. There is a subtle sense of modernity to them, with the fruit erring towards black rather than red, quite fleshy and voluminous in the mouth, and not subtle but eager to express'

N.Martin, 2014 'I finally reached Domaine Arlaud for the first time in late January. But good things come to those that wait.'

N.Martin, 2014 'my senses lit up when I sipped the first sample. Here are wines made in a very pure and natural style, each evocative of their respective terroirs. Each wine was imbued with superb freshness and delineation'

KIND WORDS ON LOUIS (& CLEMENT) BOILLOT, etc:

N.Martin, Vinous 2020 'These wines often receive less attention than those of Ghislaine-Barthod... But these are certainly worth seeking out as they are well crafted Pinot Noirs and indeed Gamays.'

N.Martin, Vinous 2018 'I agree with Boillot that his standout is his Nuits Saint-Georges Les Prulliers: complex, full of joie de vivre and demonstrating great persistency.'

N.Martin TWA 2016 'Louis Boillot has made his best wines in 2015...with superior precision and terroir expression'

A.Galloni, Vinous 2014 'a gorgeous set of wines' (on 2012s)

N.Martin, 2013 'an impressive portfolio...balanced, refined and skilfully expressed their terroir.'

A.Galloni, 2011 'the wines themselves are fabulous and deserve serious attention.'

W.Kelley, TWA 2019 'small but superb domaine'

W.Kelley, TWA 2021 'In short, everything here comes warmly recommended.'

W.Kelley, TWA 2019 'excellent old vine holdings in top appellations, deft winemaking and a classical aesthetic, readers should take note. Ploughed vineyards, destemmed grapes, classical cuvaisons and élevage in a moderate percentage of new barrels.'

D.Schildknecht, 2010 'reminds one of the virtues of typical wines from two or more decades ago: restrained, a bit youthfully tart and tight, but backed by admirable extract and energy, and likely to reward cellaring for at least the better part of a decade.'

Louis Boillot on 2019: 'the most elegant, refined and fresh of the recent warm vintages we've had here in Burgundy.'

Louis Boillot on 2014s: 'very cherry, very red fruit wines with a chiseled character, a bit like 2006s. They have structure, fruit & acidity.'

Louis Boillot on 2012s: 'the best CDB wines are likely to require longer aging than those from the CDN owing to their concentration. The CDN wines are fresh and taut, but the CDB wines are even deeper in 2012, even if they don't have quite the same vibrancy.'

Louis Boillot on 2010s: 'We had lots of concentration in 2010 due to the low yields, and the wines have very good structure, with ripe tannins that are finer than those of 2009 or 2008.'

Louis Boillot on 2008s: 'reminds me of 1996 in terms of its acidity, but of the long under-rated 1972s overall.'

one whose star is in the ascendant. These are gloriously silky smooth, complex wines; not just with the top Premier Crus but down to the generic Burgundy. It's the intensity and focus that set Cathiard apart, wines with supreme definition and purity that seduce the palate like a beautiful courtesan. ... This producer comes highly recommended from top to bottom.'

KIND WORDS ON FOURNIER, etc.:

S.Ohman, winehog.org 2020 'a practitioner of balance. His wines are not in the wild or extreme category, yet they do have tremendous depth & intensity.'
S.Ohman, winehog.org 2020 'I was impressed to find fine energy and vivacity in his wines, and a hedonistic flair'

Neal Martin, 2015 'this domaine is...at the top of its game'

Bill Nanson, 2017 'super wines...more vin de garde in style'

Bill Nanson, 2019 'I used to consider Laurent's wines to be the equal of those from Sylvain Pataille but styled with more emphasis on structure. That's probably still the case today, but the structure here is less overt than I remember.'

Bill Nanson, 2014 'on a par with, and sometimes bettering those of illustrious Marsannay neighbours, such as B.Claire and S.Pataille'

Laurent Fournier, 2019 'Now I'm using equal amounts of large format and normal 228 litre barrels and am much happier with low SO2...with this approach.'

Laurent Fournier, 2017 'I'm very fond of concentrated wines.'

Laurent Fournier, 2014 'we are not bio-extremists'

KIND WORDS ON CROIX VIOLETTES:

Guide Hachette 2012: 'un <<évangile>>'

Jasper Morris, 2022 'the nose is almost too concentrated and on the palate it is something very similar, but still really impressive' (on 2020)

Jasper Morris, 2021 'something pretty special here. A Côte de Nuits with bulging muscles' (on 2019)

Jasper Morris MW, 2019 'this is exquisite on the palate, all in elegance' (on 2018)

Bill Nanson, 2019 'Lots of volume, depth of flavour, a little saline, extra complex. Slowly fading flavour. Ooh – excellent' (on 2017)

Bill Nanson, 2014 'Super length, simply a brilliant wine!' (on 2012)

Neal Martin, 2016 'Côtes de Nuits Croix Violettes Vieilles Vignes must rank as one of best I have ever tasted.'

KIND WORDS ON HUBERT LIGNIER:

W.Kelley, 2017 'one of the Côte de Nuits' benchmark producers'

N.Martin, 2022 'the domaine is in safe hands.'

N.Martin, 2022 'These wines all mandate long periods of cellaring – not just the Clos de la Roche, but most of the cuvées in the estate's wide range'

N.Martin, 2017 'meticulous in the vineyard, also a dab hand in the winery.'

N.Martin, 2017 'simple & straightforward in terms of the running of the domaine...complexity reserved for what is swishing around inside the bottle.'

N.Martin, 2016 'a trove of goodies to be found amongst the wide array of Morey-Saint-Denis premier and village crus'

N.Martin, 2016 'one of Morey-Saint-Denis' finest producers.'

N.Martin, 2015 'in recent vintages, simply put, creating some of the best wines the Côte de Nuits has to offer.'

N.Martin, 2013 'over-deliver in almost every department: elegant, refined, classic, vivacious, poised and intense...suffused with personality & charisma.'

N.Martin, 2013 'a strong set of pure, sensual, quite intellectual wines that I feel deserve more recognition, exhibiting prudent use of oak, ample freshness and wonderful expression of their terroirs not dissimilar to Lalou Bize-Leroy.'

N.Martin, 2013 'very special wines, some of the best you will find in Burgundy.'

N.Martin, 2013 'If God made wine for a reason, then it was for wines like these.'

Laurent Lignier 'The soil is the key to succeed in making a great wine: respecting and looking after it is essential to reveal a great terroir.'

KIND WORDS ON MAUME:

- Neal Martin, Vinous 2020 'Back in the day, Maume was the bastion of "traditional Burgundy"'
- Neal Martin, Vinous 2020 'Maume never lost the knack of producing what you might call "fermented wonderment"'
- Neal Martin, TWA 2015 'Bertrand Maume is a winemaker who produced what you might call a militantly classic style of Burgundy. ...Here in the UK, Maume has a cult following that adore this style. I would probably include myself with them.'
- Neal Martin, TWA 2014 'I have a strong affection for Domaine Maume, whose unapologetically traditional, often herbaceous wines had a propensity to evolve into quite compelling expression of Pinot Noir that you either love or hate...'
- Neal Martin, TWA 2014 'Bertrand Maume had a canny knack of creating wines that initially seemed to lack depth, yet given bottle age and aeration, revealed hidden depths that made his wines mysteriously captivating.'
- Claude Kolm, 2015 'old bottles of Maume can be utterly profound'

(updated Aug.2023)

KIND WORDS ON TAWSE LABELS:

- N.Martin, 2021 'It is good to see Tawse starting to get the kudos they deserve.'
- N.Martin, 2018 'For a few years, this Nuits Saint-Georges-based domaine/négociant rapidly expanded and changed names, to the confusion of some consumers. Fortunately, things seem to have settled down now: Domaine Tawse and Marchand-Tawse are domaine and négociant, respectively.'
- Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2022 'For me, Marchand-Tawse (negoce) and Domaine Tawse are somewhat overlooked.'

KIND WORDS ON TAWSE WINES:

- Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2022 'Pascal is also a tremendous winemaker, and even with bought grapes he is able to produce wines of impressive quality. The main quality of the wines made by and under Pascal is drinkability: They drink well and bring pleasure. These are basic, but necessary, qualities of a vin d'émotion. Pascal Marchand can take negociant wines – the terroirs, the grapes – and reveal their qualities like few others. Some wines have emotional characteristics, others not. But if they are there in potential, chances are the team at Marchand-Tawse will find them.'
- Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2021 'These are wines of energy and drinkability, with a feeling of airiness and lightness. Rarely does one have the feeling of extraction or over-ripeness – they are made with a light hand. The oak is usually moderately toasted, with a minimal share of new wood. The wines are characterized by the sometimes ample use of whole clusters when possible. This formula works very well for most of the wines here. They bring pleasure and sometimes even great joy!'
- Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2021 'I am a big fan of the work Pascal does, producing wines of pleasure and, sometimes, of both joy and great complexity. This is always the standing question: pleasure &/or complexity? These days, when top Burgundies are very costly, answering "both" could prove expensive!'
- Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2018 'Style wise the wines (are) elegant, the wines are charming, forward and quite silky'
- Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2018 'a lovely display of terroir...appellation...display of fruit...drinkability'
- N.Martin, 2021 'There is plenty on offer down the hierarchy in various appellations, and the wines remain well-priced compared with others.'
- N.Martin, 2020 'in vino veritas – these wines prove themselves time and again where it counts – in the wine glass'
- N.Martin, 2018 'there is much to admire under the direction of Fincham, and those complaining about the modern style of winemaking really need to taste the wines, preferably in blind conditions as I have done. Fincham manages to embrace both classic and modern winemaking.'
- N.Martin, 2016 'I was very impressed by the quality of these wines (2015s): very intense, detailed and unapologetically very terroir specific, exemplified by the impressive village cru, Gevrey-Chambertin en Palud, and one of the finest Mazis-Chambertins you will find in 2015. They seem reasonably priced in the market vis-à-vis other growers and they are definitely worth investigating. This is principled and thoughtful winemaking creating wonderful wine.'
- N.Martin, 2015 'I have to commend the purity of these wines, their freshness and brightness. They have retained elegance in barrel that I hope will be translated in bottle and they speak of their terroirs, partly because of biodynamic farming that means they must be constantly amongst the vines.'
- S.Tanzer, 2014 'Pascal Marchand is now producing an impressive array of both red and white Burgundies. He is also cutting back on use of new oak: the grand crus are no longer aged in all new barrels and the premier crus get about 30% new oak.'

KIND WORDS ON TAWSE TEAM:

- Bill Nanson, 2019 'I'm a big fan of Pascal Marchand and his team's work – every year there are gems outside of the quality that I expect from the GCs.'
- Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2022 'Pascal Marchand is one of the most knowledgeable vigneron in Burgundy, and it's a treat to hear his views based in vast knowledge & long experience. This is how we learn. And let's not forget, Pascal has great help from his co-winemaker Mark Fincham, a very capable vigneron'
- Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2021 'Pascal Marchand has been a step ahead for many years...'
- N.Martin, 2020 'Nowadays I reserve an entire morning to taste through the complete range of Domaine Tawse and their wide range of négociant wines under Marchand-Tawse. That is not only because of the sheer number of wines, but also because discussing the vintage with winemakers Pascal Marchand and Mark Fincham is always an illuminating exercise.'
- N.Martin, 2015 'Pascal himself has moved away from that style (of dense, extracted and oaky Burgundy)'

KIND WORDS ON MUGNIER, etc.

Becky Wassermann 'In winemaking, Fred is seeking the absence of Fred.'

b+d Guide, 2020 'ce domaine n'a cessé de perfectionner viticulture et vinification depuis le debut des années 1990 - 5''

b+d Guide, 2020 '(vins) tous délicats, subtils, pudesques, vraiment dans l'esprit que nous aimons et defendons'

N.Martin, 2019 'My conversation with Mugnier is consistently one of the most enlightening and candid during my visits. His comments symbolize the seachange of opinion towards the growing season...with global warming now accepted as a real phenomenon.'

J.F.Mugnier, 2018 'complexity is inherently difficult to describe—a wine that's easy to describe can't be truly great'

W.Kelley, TWA 2018 'an original winemaker at the height of his powers. ...emphasizes purity, transparency, concentration without extraction.'

S.Ohman, Winehog, 2016 'The wines are magnificent, and Frédéric Mugnier is one of the most interesting people in Burgundy'

N.Martin, 2015 'Frédéric has...''found his groove'' at the domaine, fashioning a style of wine that he feels comfortable with'

C.Kolm TFWR, 2014 'one of the iconic domaines... wines of finesse and overall sensuality.'

N.Martin, 2013 'the more classical, refined style of Pinot Noir suits Mugnier to the ground.'

S.Tanzer, 2012 'Mugnier generally outperforms in tricky growing seasons.'

A.Galloni, 2011 'With each passing year Mugnier has let up on the reigns of winemaking and allowed the vintage to take center stage. His wines now reflect the unique qualities of each harvest to an exacting degree.'

S.Tanzer, 2011 'For many years, Freddy Mugnier would adapt his vinification and elevage to the style of each new vintage. In fact, it might be accurate to say that he often vinified against the style of the year. But this veteran winemaker has clearly had a change of heart.'

Jasper Morris MW, Inside Burgundy, 2010 'the wines have a sense of harmony'

S.Tanzer, 2008 'wines to make a Burgundy lover cry' (on 2005s & 2006s)

D.Schildknecht, 2007 'scoring hits even when Nature does not make it easy'

S.Tanzer, 2006 'Just when you think you have a good grasp on a particular vintage, or on how it should have been handled by winemakers, it's time for a visit to Freddy Mugnier, who can be counted on to take a contrarian approach.'

A.Meadows, 2006 '(on Marechale) the sophistication and elegance that Mugnier brings to all of his wines has worked brilliantly here.'

Clive Coates MW, in Cote'd'Or, 1997 '(Mugnier Musigny:) a wine at the summit of what Burgundy can produce'

Clive Coates MW, in Cote'd'Or, 1997 'today rivals the very best of the village'

KIND WORDS ON CHANTAL REMY:

N.Martin, 2017 'When Remy's wines hit the spot they are an absolute joy to behold.'

N.Martin, 2015 'just beautiful, in some ways reminding of the freshness and transparency of Nicole Lamarche...These are not powerful, gutsy wines despite their prestigious origins, but are based on purity and poise, wines that can be deceptively long-lived.'

N.Martin, 2015 'worth seeking out, especially for those that like traditional, unpretentious and pure Pinot Noir.'

Claude Kolm: 'making excellent wines in a very traditional fashion'

Bill Nanson, 2013: 'the wines of Remy...more often than not, fit my prescription for a perfect bottle. Elegance and complexity, with quite enough understated power, thank-you. Just very lovely wines.'

Burgundy focus:

* Auxey-Duresses *

A new concept for Raeburn: a focus on an undersung Burgundy genre and it's growers. We all know the megastar growers and villages: the critical radar is ever alert for rising stars. However, as the most sought after wines become investment grade, they grace fewer tables. What should be we be tasting, listing, drinking, sharing instead? Vintages highlighted here have the most bottle age, combined with nice stocks: there are often younger wines on the main list for those who prefer the fresh fruit of youth.

Burg critic Bill Nanson of Burgundy Report started a village profile of Auxey - pronounced "oh-say" - in 2018. This is an excerpt: "Auxey is essentially the meeting-point of three other appellations – Meursault, Monthélie and St.Romain – sitting in an east-west valley (the Avant-Dheune) below St.Romain and Monthélie but above Meursault. Given the location, it's a surprise that only 35% of production is white. (NB Monthélie is only 15% white.)

The style of the reds is more Pommard than Volnay, the difference is more structural – I find Monthélie can be very close to Volnay in style, but Auxey is certainly a wine with a little more tannin and herb. The crunchy tannins need more work but domaines are getting there – the reds are far more refined today than 20 years ago. The (better) whites vary from fine and fresh indeed vibrant wines there – the reds are far more refined today than 20 years ago... The (better) whites vary from fine and fresh, indeed vibrant wines that are neither St.Romain nor Meursault – yet somehow redolent of both – no bad thing!

The greatest part of the production of this village is sold in France – it's not like that for any of the other villages of the Côte d'Or. You won't find (very) old bottles of Auxey-Duresses because they were labelled as Meursault and Volnay before AOC (1970 for Auxey), and possibly for some time after!"

Auxey has 138ha at village level in 38 lieux-dits, and almost 32ha 1C vines in 11 lieux-dits: all can be white or red. The appellation was created in just 1970. There are two main zones of vines. One is the northern extension of Meursault, on the Cote itself, as it enters the valley which runs through Auxey towards St.Romain. It's North or NE facing, flattish, mostly white and all Village level. It includes JM Vincent's Les Hautés, and the Clos du Moulin aux Moines, which is one of the largest remaining monastical buildings of Burgundy with 2 to 3 meter high walls around it's 2.8ha Clos Monopole. The second zone is the other side of the village and stream, the western continuation of Monthelie as again the vines turn into the valley. All the 1C vineyards lie here, SE to South facing, above the village, below the 'Montagne'. (42ha of village level lie up the valley, disconnected from the rest of Auxey, abutting the southern vines of St.Romain. Topographically at least, they should join that AOC.)

NB near the very back of this list lie our other focus selections. They draw together wines from all over by their special attributes, including: ungrafted vines, tvv aka centenarian vines, higher altitude, long elevage, NSA, orange, light reds, rare grapes, art labels, hommages, Burg monopoles, female ownership. Etc.

KIND WORDS ABOUT JC BACHELET:

N.Martin, Vinous 2020 'I have been a fan of this estate for a number of years'

N.Martin, Vinous 2020 'Generally, these maintain their slightly bolder, richer style...that is always enhanced by a longer élevage'

N.Martin, Vinous 2018 'their use of wood is always respectful to the fruit and therefore the terroir is nearly always translated in the glass'

FDN « vigneron - éleveur - embouteilleur »

FDN 'La culture en biologie et plus en biodynamie est pour moi une évidence depuis les années 90'

FDN 'Avec la Maison François de Nicolay, petite structure commerciale, j'ai décidé de faire des vins sans artifice, sans additifs, à partir de raisins, de culture biologique ou biodynamique. Les approvisionnements en raisins et moûts (jus de raisin non encore fermentés) ou en vins proviennent de vignobles certifiés biologiques voire biodynamiques ou en voie de transition vers l'agriculture biologique. S'ils sont de la plus haute qualité, on peut essayer de faire des vins purs! C'est-à-dire sans aucun produit ajouté. Ainsi, à la Maison François de Nicolay vous trouverez des cuvées réalisées sans sulfites ajoutés, sans chaptalisation... Uniquement du raisin ! Pour les autres cultures, le seul ajout est une dose faible de soufre. Une fois acquis, les moûts ou vins sont élevés dans une ancienne cave à Savigny-Lès-Beaune, sans remontage, sans filtration, sans clarification et ils sont mis en bouteille naturellement, à la main, avec une chèvre à deux becs, directement de la barrique "à la chèvre" sans pompage. C'est un travail artisanal qui évite l'ajout de soufre et qui maintient le vin avec toute sa fraîcheur originelle.'

KIND WORDS ON MICHEL GANOUX:

Allen Meadows 'If you enjoy traditionally made Burgundy, then...this is one of the finest domaines in all Burgundy'

William Kelley, TWA 'among the region's best kept secrets for lovers of traditionally styled red Burgundy'

William Kelley, TWA 2018 'Domaine Michel Gaunoux – Where Time Stands Still in Pommard'

William Kelley, TWA 2018 'At maturity...wines display such glorious complexity, amplitude and dimension that patience is amply rewarded.'

William Kelley, TWA 2020 'The 2017s have turned out brilliantly chez Gaunoux, combining deceptive charm and succulence of fruit with serious depth, concentration and structure...among the finest renditions of the vintage that I have tasted from bottle along the Côte....'

Bill Nanson, 2017 'Gaunoux is a great old Côte de Beaune family name.'

Steen Ohman, 2017 'Michel Gaunoux is very different – traditional and old school in the best possible way, creating Burgundies of a very high quality even by current standards – wines of beauty – and somehow beyond the new conventions of modern day'

Steen Ohman, 2017 'The viticulture and vinification seem to work well even in lesser years and a tremendous consistency style and quality wise has been achieved .. without diminishing the expression of the individual vintage and terroir.'

Steen Ohman, 2017 'The wines that I experienced...are different from other wines I have tasted in Burgundy over the last 25 years.'

Steen Ohman, 2017 'They may be traditional and intense wines – coming from some of the more powerful terroirs – Pommard and Corton – yet somehow they seem to offer a special, effortless and refined pinot experience.'

Steen Ohman, 2017 'a classic style with some special qualities – firstly very finely grained tannins that gives the wines structure and intensity without being intrusive in appreciating the character of terroir and the vintage. Secondly a fine and fresh acidity that adds to the impression of transparency and refinement.'

Steen Ohman, 2017 'These wines are special, and a tremendous treat, as they offer a combination of modern purity and a traditional style'

Steen Ohman, 2017 'M.Gaunoux keep the wines in the cellar and release them three years after the harvest...same procedure as DRC'

Steen Ohman, 2017 'Summing up .. these wines offer some special qualities combining intensity, airiness in a refined and classic style presenting the best sides of both the Pommard and Corton appellations.'

KIND WORDS ON & BY LAFARGE:

W.Kelley, TWA 2021 'another magical portfolio from this reference point. Beautifully balanced, with vibrant acids, ripe tannins and moderate alcohols. Ultimately, time will tell which of the 2018–2019–2020 trio emerges as the most successful at this address (and in all three, the Lafarge family produced some of the wines of the vintage), but all serious Burgundy lovers are going to want a sampling of each in their cellars.'

W.Kelley, TWA 2021 'This exemplary domaine offers a wonderful example of living tradition, producing wines with a resolutely classical aesthetic, but thoughtfully and with continual incremental progress in the vineyards and the cellar...There are signs that collectors' fixation of the red wines of the red wines of the Côte de Nuits at the expense of those of the Côte de Beaune is decisively changing, as Lafarge prices on the secondary market really begin to soar, a trend that long-time followers of the domaine will concede is merited even if they lament it. What is clear is that it is only just beginning.'

W.Kelley, TWA 2020 'The 2018 portfolio chez Lafarge is deep, concentrated, exquisitely elegant and—above all—lively and dynamic, in a vintage where the nexus of all four of those qualities is rare, for all the lovely wines that have been produced.'

W.Kelley, TWA 2020 'quite simply some of the finest wines produced in all the Côte d'Or in the 2018 vintage.'

W.Kelley, TWA 2019 'one of the great estates of the Côte de Beaune. As usual, these are elegant and classically proportioned wines'

N.Martin, Vinous 2020 'Lafarge captures that essence of Pinoté like few others.'

N.Martin, TWA 2017 'do not discount Lafarge's excellent wines from Beaune'

N.Martin, TWA 2017 'Domaine Michel Lafarge is finally getting the recognition it has long deserved. As tastes have swung away from the overripe, labored wines of the 1990s and toward what might be termed a more classic style, cognoscenti have begun to proselytize the wines of Michel and Frédéric Lafarge as the epitome of red Côte de Beaune. It encapsulates everything that makes Burgundy great, not just the quality of the wines that have no need for a grand cru to demonstrate their worth, but the simplicity of the winemaking, the tenets of the winemakers themselves, their tiny vaulted cellars...'

N.Martin, TWA 2016 'What can I say? These are occasionally spellbinding expressions of Volnay that frankly, have no equal. There is something beguiling about these wines that articulate their respective terroirs with utmost clarity. They are totally unpretentious, traditional in the best sense of the word... I will not single any one out in particular but for certain, the premier crus are wondrous, awe-inspiring wines that are going to give a lot of pleasure, especially those wise enough to give them appropriate time in the cellar.'

N.Martin, TWA 2016 'Michel Lafarge is one of the greatest Burgundy domaines. Period.'

N.Martin, TWA 2014 'I always look forward to my visit to Michel Lafarge in the maze-like alleys of Volnay. In many ways it encapsulates Burgundy: small domaine, choice parcels, great history, a loyal following, dank and claustrophobic vaulted cellars thickly smothered with white mold like something out of a 1974 episode of Dr. Who, a bit disheveled in appearance...untidy perhaps, charismatic bordering upon legendary patriarch and wines so exquisite that they make you want to quit and just go home with that sweet nectar tingling in your mouth.'

N.Martin, TWA 2013 'Lafarge's wines tend to be deceptively long lived if you can manage to track them down (wth bottle age)'

N.Martin, 2013 'Frédéric Lafarge...escorted me through his cramped 13th-century arched cellars that are covered head to toe in thick black mold.'

You could imagine a witches' coven in a dark corner. Instead, the only thing being conjured up here is magical wine.'

N.Martin, TWA 2014 'wines are so pure and elegant that you feel as if you are peering into the very vines, wines that leave you with a Cheshire cat grin'

N.Martin, TWA 2014 'Frédéric absolutely loves 2013 and described how it was a long growing season after a humid and wet spring, one where the grapes reached phenolic ripeness at low sugar levels. "We picked from 3 until 9 October," he explained. "The last time that we had picked in October was in 1980"'

Galloni, 2011 'many of the wines are at or near the top of their respective peer groups'

D.Schildknecht, TWA 2009 'Lafarge are consistently adept in challenging vintages, and (succeeded admirably in 2006)

Decanter, 2018 'one of the Côte d'Or's most thoughtful and experienced observers'

D.Lafon, 2017 'Greves is an amazing vineyard, maybe the best in Beaune'

Frederic Lafarge, 2021 '2020 is a very great vintage'

Frederic Lafarge, 2020 'Burgundy's rhythms are changing, and we have to adapt'

Frederic Lafarge, 2017 'I had never seen anything like it. The 1974 vintage was the last time. Before that, budding had been regular, and then it turned very cold on 27 April: -5 or -6 degrees Celsius. Then we had the sun. We lost between 65% to 70% of the total crop, and in Meursault it was very bad and we could only make 900 bottles of the village cru. In some parcels we lost up to 90% of the crop. Then we had mildew, and this was severe because the vines were so fatigued. We had to treat the vines at weekends. Then the weather turned warm and sunny so that we ended up picking ripe and healthy grapes from 21 September. You had to adapt your approach to each vineyard. There was nothing really to sort. We did a normal extraction and found a nice balance in the fruit, each climat very clear to see. The wines seem joyful, especially so after racking.' (on 2016s)

Frederic Lafarge, 2009 'Biodynamic treatments permit the vine to overcome the stress of weather extremes'

KIND WORDS ON TAWSE LABELS:

N.Martin, 2021 'It is good to see Tawse starting to get the kudos they deserve.'

N.Martin, 2018 'For a few years, this Nuits Saint-Georges-based domaine/négociant rapidly expanded and changed names, to the confusion of some consumers. Fortunately, things seem to have settled down now: Domaine Tawse and Marchand-Tawse are domaine and négociant, respectively.

Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2022 'For me, Marchand-Tawse (negoce) and Domaine Tawse are somewhat overlooked.'

KIND WORDS ON TAWSE WINES:

Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2022 'Pascal is also a tremendous winemaker, and even with bought grapes he is able to produce wines of impressive quality. The main quality of the wines made by and under Pascal is drinkability: They drink well and bring pleasure. These are basic, but necessary, qualities of a vin d'émotion. Pascal Marchand can take negociant wines – the terroirs, the grapes – and reveal their qualities like few others. Some wines have emotional characteristics, others not. But if they are there in potential, chances are the team at Marchand-Tawse will find them.'

Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2021 'These are wines of energy and drinkability, with a feeling of airiness and lightness. Rarely does one have the feeling of extraction or over-ripeness – they are made with a light hand. The oak is usually moderately toasted, with a minimal share of new wood. The wines are characterized by the sometimes ample use of whole clusters when possible. This formula works very well for most of the wines here. They bring pleasure and sometimes even great joy!'

Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2021 'I am a big fan of the work Pascal does, producing wines of pleasure and, sometimes, of both joy and great complexity. This is always the standing question: pleasure &/or complexity? These days, when top Burgundies are very costly, answering "both" could prove expensive!'

Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2018 'Style wise the wines (are) elegant, the wines are charming, forward and quite silky'

Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2018 'a lovely display of terroir...appellation...display of fruit...drinkability'

N.Martin, 2021 'There is plenty on offer down the hierarchy in various appellations, and the wines remain well-priced compared with others.'

N.Martin, 2020 'in vino veritas – these wines prove themselves time and again where it counts – in the wine glass'

N.Martin, 2018 'there is much to admire under the direction of Fincham, and those complaining about the modern style of winemaking really need to taste the wines, preferably in blind conditions as I have done. Fincham manages to embrace both classic and modern winemaking.'

N.Martin, 2016 'I was very impressed by the quality of these wines (2015s): very intense, detailed and unapologetically very terroir specific, exemplified by the impressive village cru, Gevrey-Chambertin en Palud, and one of the finest Mazis-Chambertins you will find in 2015. They seem reasonably priced in the market vis-à-vis other growers and they are definitely worth investigating. This is principled and thoughtful winemaking creating wonderful wine.'

N.Martin, 2015 'I have to commend the purity of these wines, their freshness and brightness. They have retained elegance in barrel that I hope will be translated in bottle and they speak of their terroirs, partly because of biodynamic farming that means they must be constantly amongst the vines.'

S.Tanzer, 2014 'Pascal Marchand is now producing an impressive array of both red and white Burgundies. He is also cutting back on use of new oak: the grand crus are no longer aged in all new barrels and the premier crus get about 30% new oak.'

KIND WORDS ON TAWSE TEAM:

Bill Nanson, 2019 'I'm a big fan of Pascal Marchand and his team's work – every year there are gems outside of the quality that I expect from the GCs.'

Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2022 'Pascal Marchand is one of the most knowledgeable vigneron in Burgundy, and it's a treat to hear his views based in vast knowledge & long experience. This is how we learn. And let's not forget, Pascal has great help from his co-winemaker Mark Fincham, a very capable vigneron'

Steen Ohman, Winehog, 2021 'Pascal Marchand has been a step ahead for many years...'

N.Martin, 2020 'Nowadays I reserve an entire morning to taste through the complete range of Domaine Tawse and their wide range of négociant wines under Marchand-Tawse. That is not only because of the sheer number of wines, but also because discussing the vintage with winemakers Pascal Marchand and Mark Fincham is always an illuminating exercise.'

N.Martin, 2015 'Pascal himself has moved away from that style (of dense, extracted and oaky Burgundy)'

KIND WORDS ON TERRES DE VELLE:

Sarah Marsh MW, World of Fine Wine 'The excellent Domaine des Terre de Velle is relatively new in Burgundy terms. Fabrice and Sophie Laronze, who built a modern winery at the entry of Auxey-Duresses, have scattered parcels of vines in Auxey as well as neighbouring villages. ...they export their wines and are well worth following'

KIND WORDS ON JM & AM VINCENT:

Bill Nanson, Burgundy Report 2020 'It's a virtuous circle here at JMV'

Bill Nanson, Burgundy Report 2018 'As always, a selection that astounds. Great viticulture plus great wine-making, equals great wines.'
William Kelley, TWA WOTY 2021 'You'll be hearing a lot more about Jean-Marc Vincent in the near future. Working with "humbler" appellations such as Santenay or, in this case, Auxey-Duresses, his work in the vineyards is cutting edge: Ultra-high-density plantings with heritage vine genetics, cultivated without the use of tractors, and high canopies that don't need to be trimmed throughout the growing season deliver impeccable fruit, and constant refinement in the winery and cellar mean that all its character makes it into the bottle these days. Always tirelessly striving to improve, Jean-Marc is now prolonging the time his wines mature in barrel to bring yet another step up in quality. Why isn't this domaine a household name already? Simply because for far too long the wine press and trade have assessed the quality of Burgundy by "pedigree" as opposed to the wine in the glass and the work behind it.'

N.Martin, Vinous 2021 'I was impressed by both colours. The whites are taut and crisp with ample substance. The bottom line is that his wines are just delicious, and given the inflated prices you find elsewhere for less quality, I cannot recommend these high enough. I look forward to returning.'

W.Kelley TWA, 2020 'exceptional five-hectare Santenay domaine is one of the Côte de Beaune's finest, deserves to be much better known.'

W.Kelley, TWA 2020 'It's no surprise that Jean-Marc Vincent numbers producers such as B.Lorenzon, O.Lamy, T.Bouley as friends and inspirations; and like their wines, Vincent's own are the fruit of two decades of serious reflection and hard work.'

W.Kelley, TWA 2020 'the viticulture at this address is painstaking and cutting edge; and the result is, unsurprisingly, wines of exceptional energy and concentration that smash the glass ceilings frequently imposed on appellations such as Santenay and Auxey'

W.Kelley, TWA 2020 'readers looking for wines that subvert Burgundy's traditional hierarchy of appellations should beat a path to (the) Vincent's door.'

W.Kelley, TWA 2019 'a fine source of decidedly superior red and white Burgundy that deserves to be much better known.'

W.Kelley, TWA 2019 'The last few vintages have been so consistently excellent that it is now fair to say that this address can be numbered among the Côte de Beaune's best. And if the Vincents' efforts can shine more light on Satenay's merits, so much the better.'

W.Kelley for Decanter, 2017 'approaches the ceiling of what is possible in this appellation'

S.Ohman, Winehog 'One of the best visits I had in 2017...now I have a great veneration for Dom.Jean-Marc Vincent – lovely people'
S.Ohman, Winehog 2017 'Top 5 Burgundy Great Value Wineries'

KIND WORDS ABOUT HASARD:

Motto: 'Il faut aimer' (attributed to Romain Gary)

W.Kelley, TWA 2021 'I was taken aback by just how good these wines are: Hasard's concentrated, chiseled whites and his perfumed, enveloping reds deserve to be far better known outside of France.'

W.Kelley, TWA 2021 'a superb domaine that I can't recommend highly enough, and Hasard's wines will (now) be covered every year'

W.Kelley, TWA 2021 'Hasard has planted at higher densities with massal selections and superior clones. Yields, at 25hl/ha for red, would be considered low in the Côte de Nuits. In the winery, whites are pressed for two and a half hours to extract from the skins, and reds ferment with one- to two-thirds whole cluster—though there are no rules.'

Bill Nanson, Burgundy Report, 2015 'What a smart set of wines at this address'

Bill Nanson, Burgundy Report, 2015 'the wines have a focus and precision that are really top draw. Ones to search out!

Bettane Desseauve, 2020 'Un vrai travail d'orfèvre!'

Bettane Desseauve, 2016 'Le domaine jongle avec l'acidité de ses vins, qui est avant tout recherché'

Bettane Desseauve, 2016 'blancs tres energetiques, viés et tres purs...rouges se caractérisent par leur grande précision'

Bourgogne Wineblog, 2012 'it's divinely good' - 'c'est divinement bon!'

KIND WORDS ON PAUL JANIN:

B+D Guide 2019 'depechez-vous, il n'y en aura pas pour tout le monde' - 'Don't delay - there is not enough for everyone..'

B+D Guide 'one of the leading lights of Romanèche-Thorins'

RVF 'they draw the quintessence. Congratulations!'

Bill Nanson, 2020 'really fantastic – 2018 (is) a great vintage here... I asked him if he was happy with his wines in 2018 – “Yes I'm really happy.” – me too!'

Bill Nanson, 2019 'Bravo, superb (2017s) wines in (Brouilly) – more serious wines from Moulin à Vent (all de-stemmed in 2017)'

Bill Nanson, 2018 'Given the circumstances of the vintage (2016) here, this is a great result...both reds you should wait for.'

Bill Nanson, 2017 'brilliant but powerful 2015s to wait for. All the 2015s here came in between 14 and 15°.'

Bill Nanson, 2017 'luckily, there are still those 2014s!'

PAUL JANIN ON JANIN:

Motto: Artisan de vignes et de vins

Paul Janin, 2020 'I love to work with assembling wines, there are so many changes you can make or bring to the wines...'

Paul Janin, 2017 'I never pass 40 hl/ha'

Paul Janin, 2022 '18 hl/ha in 2021 – I didn't even harvest my Beaujolais Villages red and white as it was completely frozen'

Paul Janin, 2021 '2020 was an easy year but also a fast year is my impression'

Paul Janin, 2020 '2019. Another small vintage – it was the frost to blame – 16-17 hl/ha about 25% of a normal vintage. It was hot, the vines suffered in the summer, but the remedement was virtually set before. There's a nicely coherent line of flavour in the frosted areas'

Paul Janin, 2020 '2018. A different scenario! The growth started quite early... About 40 hl/ha – which is about the maximum I can achieve with my older vines.'

Paul Janin, 2019 '2017, 8-12hl/ha. A harvest that was complicated. It was hard to work with the grapes... It's the first time I took so long to triage a harvest – removing every single dry grape by hand – the whole (MAV) vintage destemmed'

Paul Janin, 2018 '2016, 13hl/ha. Never in the memory of vigneronns was there such a powerful storm (24th June)– 80% of the harvest was taken in 2016.'

Paul Janin, 2017 '2015: Completely different! Still only 20-25 hl/ha, due to lots of old vines, plus the heat and the dryness – the number of grapes was really correct, but due to the dryness they hardly grew. 45 mm of rain 3 weeks before the harvest...was what saved the vintage as many of the vines had a block'

Paul Janin, 2016 '2014. A classic vintage but a very nice classic!'

KIND WORDS ON MASSON:

RVF Le Guide, 2022 'Jean-Claude Masson est incontestablement le chantre de la jacquère. ...il récolte mûr et isole les cuvées selon les terroirs et selon son humeur. En résultent des vins d'une ampleur et d'une richesse inhabituelles, vinifiés et élevés en cuve inox, capables d'évoluer en se complexifiant pendant plus d'une décennie, tout en conservant le caractère incisif et fluide de la jacquère. Une vision originale, attachante, indispensable au panorama des meilleures cuvées de Savoie, qui mérite amplement l'étoile que nous lui accordons cette année.

Bruno 'The more diversity you have, the easier it is to protect the vine'

Bruno, 2020 'Dans les vignes, les arbres animent le paysage'

Bruno 'The desire [for biodynamics] has always been there, but it's when you really throw yourself into this practice that you're truly going somewhere.'

Bruno 'Choisir le "bio" n'est pas le choix le plus simple sur ces onze hectares plantés de chenin et de cabernet franc, c'est toujours une manière de s'engager vers une qualité exigeante, de tendre vers le meilleur, le plus sain, le plus vif... mais l'aventure est aussi la plus risquée. C'est alors la nature qui commande. Et ses caprices sont parfois redoutables. Au moment des vendanges des équipes légères arpentent les rangs, le tri s'opère ici d'abord, sur le terrain. Les raisins sont placés dans des seaux puis des petites caissettes pour ménager la baie.'

CHAVE ON HERMITAGE BLANC:

JL Chave: 'White Hermitage is a unique wine'
JL Chave: 'White Hermitage is for the (1st) main course.'
JL Chave: 'White Hermitage should not be too cold'
JL Chave: 'White Hermitage should be carafed just before serving'
JL Chave: 'White Hermitage is a wine of glycerol, suited to drinking with a meal.'
JL Chave: 'White Hermitage is the grand vin' (of Hermitage)
JL Chave: '(White Hermitage:) you can't disconnect it from food.'
JL Chave: 'In Hermitage, you can push things to the limit and still be OK'

CHAVE ON WINE:

JL Chave : 'La finalité di vin, c'est la table.'
JL Chave : 'Wine doesn't exist until it is drunk'
JL Chave : 'In wine we need to keep the truth.'
JL Chave: 'Avec le temps, les choses se font'
JL Chave: 'Time is a problem, right now'
JL Chave: 'What hasn't changed is the philosophy. The philosophy is not about the winemaking, it is about where the wine is from and trying to capture that.'
JL Chave: 'Why would anyone want to drink what is (supposedly) a grand vin, find it is skinny, not rich?'
JL Chave: 'Even when it's extreme, the grands terroirs are still the grands terroirs.'

CHAVE ON St.JOSEPH:

JL Chave: 'St.Joseph is the family's spiritual home'
JL Chave: 'St.Joseph potential is huge.'
JL Chave: 'Saint-Joseph embraces what I love in wine: elegance through truth and simplicity.'
JL Chave: 'In the early 1990s...I bolstered even further my idea of a true St.Joseph. I began planting (and replanting) parcels that had fallen fallow in the wake of phylloxera and then two world wars. We have rebuilt walls and terraces stone by stone to plant & nurture the vines carefully that now flourish'
JL Chave: 'The (St.Joseph) granite gives the wine a clear-cut quality of tannin which is framed and well defined by acidity and tightness. The fruit is fresh, crisp, vibrant and layered.'
JL Chave: 'St.Joseph expresses purity and finesse to complement food rather than overpower it.'
JL Chave: 'I am very interested in St.Joseph. But the problem as it stands now is that St.Joseph means nothing as an appellation. An appellation is something coherent.'
JL Chave: 'We are lucky. Our Hermitage sponsors our work in St.Joseph.'

KIND WORDS ON TARDIEU:

J.Robinson MW, 2018 'Tardieu-Laurent 2017s – rare jewels'

J.Robinson MW, 2014 'an exceptional négociant operation'

J.Robinson MW, 2006 'a very exciting range...one has to take one's hat off to Michel Tardieu'

J.Dunnuck, TWA 2016 'these 2015s are hold on to your hat good!'

J.Dunnuck, TWA 2016 '2015s from Michel Tardieu are all noteworthy, which should surprise no one who's familiar with Michel's wines.'

J.Dunnuck, TWA 2014 'incredibly strong set of 2013s... The wines break the vintage stereotype, have fantastic richness, sweet tannin.'

J.Dunnuck, TWA 2016 'These are all brought up in barrels (some new), but the oak is rarely noticeable, and these wines show beautiful typicity.'
J.Dunnuck, TWA 2015 'a relatively modern style of wine that never lacks for fruit, texture or personality'
J.Dunnuck, TWA 2013 'a bevy of high-class efforts from throughout the entire Rhone Valley'
R.Parker, TWA 2008 'high-quality negociant operation...continues to turn out high-class wines'
R.Parker, TWA 2007 'has exceptional knowledge about some of the finest vineyards and grape sources in both the northern and southern Rhone...'
R.Parker, TWA 2003 'the most exciting negociant offerings of the southern Rhone... Bottom line...this is an extraordinary source of top quality wines.'
R.Parker, TWA 2003 'The wines are made according to minimalist theories... old vines and tiny yields. Sulphur additions are minimal. There is no racking of the wines, and bottling is accomplished without fining or filtration. This is what is called "reductive winemaking"
R.Parker, TWA 2003 'these brilliant efforts capture the essence of their particular appellations'

KINDS WORDS ON LAURENT CHARVIN, etc.:

JLL 'one of the unsung top addresses, the quality super consistent, the authenticity...beyond reproach'
Stephen Tanzer, 2011 (on CDR Le Poutet) 'As usual, this wine punches above its weight.'

Josh Reynolds, Vinous 2017 'some of the most elegant, highly perfumed and pure wines of the appellation.

At the same time they are reliably deep in flavor and balanced to age, despite their suave, upfront appeal.'

Josh Reynolds, Vinous 2012 'Charvin is far more animated when he's talking vineyards than when discussing winemaking.'

Motto: 'Carrus vinum'

Laurent, 2012 (my winemaking style) 'is simple and direct, with almost all grenache and no wood, there's more time to work in the vines, which is where everything happens in the first place... There aren't really a lot of discoveries to be made in the cellar except for style preferences, but vineyard work is incredibly complex and every vintage has a different story to tell.'

KIND WORDS ON TARDIEU:

J.Robinson MW, 2018 'Tardieu-Laurent 2017s – rare jewels'
J.Robinson MW, 2014 'an exceptional négociant operation'
J.Robinson MW, 2006 'a very exciting range...one has to take one's hat off to Michel Tardieu'
J.Dunnuck, TWA 2016 'these 2015s are hold on to your hat good!'
J.Dunnuck, TWA 2016 'make a rich, full-bodied, concentrated style of wine from throughout the Southern Rhône Valley.'
J.Dunnuck, TWA 2016 '2015s from Michel Tardieu are all noteworthy, which should surprise no one who's familiar with Michel's wines.'
J.Dunnuck, TWA 2014 'incredibly strong...2013s. The wines break the vintage stereotype, have fantastic richness, sweet tannin.'
J.Dunnuck, TWA 2016 'all brought up in barrels (some new), but the oak is rarely noticeable, and these wines show beautiful typicity.'
J.Dunnuck, TWA 2015 'a relatively modern style of wine that never lacks for fruit, texture or personality'
J.Dunnuck, TWA 2013 'high-class efforts from throughout the entire Rhone Valley'
R.Parker, TWA 2008 'high-quality negociant operation...continues to turn out high-class wines'
R.Parker, TWA 2007 'exceptional knowledge about some of the finest vineyards & grape sources in both the northern and southern Rhone...'
R.Parker, TWA 2003 'the most exciting negociant offerings of the southern Rhone. Bottom line...extraordinary source of top quality wines.'
R.Parker, TWA 2003 'The wines are made according to minimalist theories... old vines and tiny yields. Sulphur additions are minimal. There is no racking of the wines, and bottling is accomplished without fining or filtration. This is what is called "reductive winemaking" '
R.Parker, TWA 2003 'most exciting negociant offerings of the southern Rhone...an extraordinary source of top quality wines.'
R.Parker, TWA 2003 'these brilliant efforts capture the essence of their particular appellations'

'As a winemaker I am a member of the Vignerons d'Europe 2009 Manifesto. My vineyards are small, steeply sloping mountain plots set in the woods of Pomaretto and Perosa Argentina. I grow them with the utmost respect for plants, the soil and all forms of life and, thanks to this, they enjoy a remarkable biodiversity which favors the presence of many useful insects, abundant spontaneous flowers, and healthy, very long lived vines. From native varieties Avanà, Avarengo, Chatus, Becuet, Barbera, etc. we harvest the grapes at full maturity, ferment with their own yeasts, without additions or corrections. The wine then matures in steel and is not subjected to any treatment. This wine is the result of a lot of effort, but has unique, unrepeatable characteristics.'

SOME KIND WORDS ON G.CONTERNO, etc.:

A.Galloni, Jun.2018 'the most prestigious producer in Italy'

M.Larner, TWA 2013 'There is something almost ecclesiastical about a cellar visit to Giacomo

Conterno...you immediately cross an imaginary threshold into a spiritual and sobering world.'

J.Suckling, 2012 'I have such respect for him. Great winemaker'

A.Galloni, 2012 'what really separates Conterno from the overwhelming majority of his peers is his intense intellectual curiosity about the world's great wines.'

A.Galloni 2010 'rightly considered by most observers as among the most profound wines in the world'

E.Asimov, NYT 2010 'among the most beautiful wines in the world.'

KIND WORDS ON FRATELLI ALESSANDRIA:

Galloni, 2020 'one of my favorite under the radar estates in Piedmont.'

Galloni, 2018 'Barolos...are terrific and will appeal to readers who enjoy traditionally-made wines. Pricing remains very fair'

Galloni, 2016 'Readers who enjoy structured, age-worthy Barolos won't want to be without these wines'

Galloni, 2015 'Over the last decade or so Alessandria has made huge strides in quality, yet the wines remain under the radar'

Galloni, 2015 'these artisan, traditionally made Barolos are some of the most compelling wines being made in Piedmont today.'

Galloni, 2010 'one of Piedmont's up and coming producers'

M.Larner, TWA 2019 'Monvigliero in the Verduno township is quickly becoming one of the most celebrated and talked about crus in Barolo.'

The Fratelli Alessandria estate was among the first to understand its potential, and indeed, this wine was first released in 1978.'

<<Cantina Spluva di Renato Molino>>

Intro: 'This is an extraordinary, and still under the radar, tiny source of traditional Barolo. The vines are well located, sustainably farmed, mature through to old. Elevation is around three years in traditional Slavonian oak casks, coopered by Bruno Arcari of Vicenza. The genre is 'elegant-traditional', with high-drinkability. Renato didn't use his own label for a long time, selling in bulk plus his multi-vintage Spluva blend to locals. Even now they bottle just ~7000 a year, off 3.8ha. So from the 2014s/2015s, we are witnessing the most welcome re-birth of an old name, with historic labels. (2017s have just made their way to the USA.)

Having been the UK importer for Accomasso for decades, the Raeburn team are delighted to be reunited with the fabled Rocche dell'Annunziata cru. Last but not least, Spluva Rosso is their beautiful multi vintage nebbiolo blend, which receives ~3yrs Barolo-level

KIND WORDS ON ROAGNA:

A.Galloni, Oct.2016 'Luca Roagna continues to step up his game.'
A.Galloni, Oct.2014 'great to see a producer with so much raw ambition'
A.Galloni, Oct.2012 'wines of great personality.'
A.Galloni, Apr.2012 'some of the most traditional, old school wines in Piemonte.'
A.Galloni, Feb.2010 'Crichët Pajé makes an eloquent case for being the Monfortino of Barbaresco'
A.Galloni, Oct.2009 'one of the most fascinating properties in Piedmont.'

KIND WORDS FROM GALLONI ON SANDRONE VARIETALS:

Galloni, 2013 'Sandrone's entry-level reds are just as distinctive as their Barolos, and are made with just as much care'
Galloni, 2019 'In most vintages, the Valmaggiore is gracious to the point of being somewhat ethereal'
Galloni, 2018 'Valmaggiore...highly regarded Roero site.'
Galloni, 2015 'Sandrone's Barberas are usually racier and finessed'
Galloni, 2019 'Sandrone's Dolcetto d'Alba is always potent'
Galloni, 2008 'Sandrone's Dolcetto is consistently one of the top versions in the region'
Galloni, 2011 'fabulous wines that make a great introduction to the work of one Piedmont's leading estates.'
Galloni, 2008 'Although Sandrone is most famous for his Barolos, (they) pay just as much attention to their entry-level wines...'

KIND WORDS FROM GALLONI ON SANDRONE BAROLO:

Galloni, 2020 'today's wines are fresher and more vibrant, and yet they retain that textural lushness that has made these wines so coveted.'
Galloni, 2020 'As for the wines, well, they are truly special.'
Galloni, 2018 'brilliant track record...built over the last four decades. Sandrone remains a benchmark for Piedmont.'
Galloni, 2017 'Sandrone is making some of his finest wines in what has been a long and extraordinary career full of successes.'
Galloni, 2014 'No one has done a better job of bridging traditional and modern style than Sandrone'
Galloni, 2014 'very much middle of the road wines from a stylistic perspective, while quality has never been higher.'
Galloni, 2014 'Barolos are made with an approach that emphasizes fruit and intensity...equivalents to...Dugot or Leroy'
Galloni, 2008 'Sandrone remains soft-spoken and rather shy, but his wines speak for themselves rather eloquently.'
Galloni, 2007 'Sandrone is one of the leading lights in Piedmont.'
Galloni, 2007 'No grower has managed to so brilliantly reconcile modern and traditional approaches in making wines that are soft, supple and approachable when young, but also capable of aging beautifully.'
Galloni, 2006 'Few winemakers offer the kind of thorough insight into the wines as Luciano Sandrone does. Time spent in Sandrone's cellar is always a fascinating and educational experience.'

---	---	------	--------------

Dedicato a Paolo. 'Serracapelli is a cru in the village of Neive, nestled in the northernmost strip of the Barbaresco denominazione. This place full of contrasts and charm, as only border country can evoke, timelessly links the love of my father Paolo for the Langhe hills and for wine. One parcel of vines in particular struck us in many vintages, to the point that we always harvested it in isolation, imagining that one day it would give us another expression of Serracapelli. That day arrived with the 2011 vintage. The name of this new wine could only be my tribute to the person who made me discover so much beauty: it is 'Dedicato a Paolo', my father.'

Runchet: 'Our philosophy, it is to use the traditional ways of winemaking.'

"We believe in natural viticulture where man and his knowledge are focused on serving land and terroir. With no fiction nor artifice, we shepherd our healthy and living grapes, accompanying a vibrant wild fermentation. We are farmers on the Alps, we preserve the plurality and diversity of our ancient local varieties and the cultural identity of traditional agronomic practices. In the vineyard we observe what nature is communicating to us: the melting of the snow in the alpine peaks, the ripe hay on the meadows in the lower valleys, a spontaneous mountain spring being birthed from the ancient rocks. Every single message is for us a precious source of wisdom, stimulating us to act following the teachings of those who came before us. In our wine, we seek to fully express every single vintage, with its idiosyncrasies and sublime equilibrium, each and every time different, unpredictable. With every new season, we repeat ancient gestures, continuing and giving new life to the identity of an Alpine people who from time immemorial has been intimately linked to the cultivation of the Chiavennasca grape."

Our project:

We have set ourselves objectives that concern our emotional sphere, even before material. It is not possible to think of a good wine without this being an "ethical" wine; the good is not expressed in the mouth but in the spirit. Perhaps, it is no coincidence that alcohol, due to its ethereal nature, is called spirit. Ethics is our behavior. In moments of joy and despair, our behavior will have to instill trust in those who want to place a bottle of wine on their table and decide to share it with their loved ones. The act of introducing food into the body is the most intimate gesture that each individual can perform. Think about it.

Cultivate - a wonderful word:

A gesture that is cultivation, when our attention is turned to plants.
 It becomes culture, when it is addressed to us, as an intellectual exercise.
 It rises to worship, when it addresses the spirit.
 Wine contains all this in itself:
 materializing cultivation and culture and, sometimes, becoming itself an element of worship.

Lorenzo & Federica: 'We believe our wines can convey our respect for the delicate balance of our environment, the care and personal attention we afford to every stage of the production process, and our pursuit of the highest quality wine and viticulture. The grapes carry a memory of the earth they grew in...'

Intro: 'Vignai da Duline was born from a creative and agro-cultural project by Lorenzo Mochiutti and Federica Magrini. With this spirit we continually manage our company: small in numbers but not in ambitions. The recovery and preservation of the old vines remains the primary objective for us, not only for the search for the absolute quality of the raw material, but also as a modern interpretation of the recovery of tradition.'

Our logo with the married vines, chosen from the beginning of our history, represents us in everything: solidity but also the ability to 'grow forth' into many projects. The 'Chioma Integrale' management of our vineyards, together with the synergistic cover-cropping, together best represent our way to bring innovation without forgetting the generations that preceded us in the vineyards. And thanks to these intuitions that we have experimented with tenacity, we reap great satisfaction.'

KIND WORDS ON GRAVNER:

Danielle Cernilli, Doctor Wine 2023 '100+/100. What I added a "plus" to is truly incredible. This is Josko Gravner's 2007 Breg Rosso, now released after 14 years of maturation and refinement. The first for five years in cask, after a vinification in amphora, the second for nine years in the bottle. It comes from

Pignolo grapes, which seems to be a distant relative of Nebbiolo, and is simply one the greatest wines I have ever tasted in forty years of honorable service.'

Slow Wine Guide 2018 'a sine qua non for any wine buff'

Slow Wine Guide 2014 'Ten years ago Luigi Veronelli said that Josko Gravner was the best winemaker in the world. Josko must have taken him very seriously indeed... he has done everything possible to make those words true.'

Eric Guide, Vinous 2023 'The Gravner family are genuine masters of Pignolo (in Breg Rosso)'

GRAVNER, Josko

Oslavje, Collio. Josko with wife Maria, their daughter Mateja, her son Gregor. 32ha estate: 15ha vines, 3ha to plant low yields, ambient ferment, 1yr in in buried terracotta, 6yr long aging in botte, modest sulphites, unfiltered & unfiltered. TCA tested corks by Mureddu, Sardinia

'biodynamic-uncertified'

Vegan compatible

TIMELINE:

2017 Ribolla is off-dry, bottled in MAGS only
2015 2nd book published; start biodynamics
2012 last vintage of Breg 'Bianco'
2009 Wine Enthusiast, Top 100 Cellar Selection
2008 Wine & Spirits 'Top 100, Winery of the Year'
2006 Breg Rosso pignolo: just 760 MAGS produced
2006 1st vintage with 7yrs elevelage
2003 last vintage of ribolla riserva from the vv
2003 1st Breg rosso vintage; the Veronelli quote
2001 1st vintage entirely fermented in terracotta
1998 1st vintage of only 'amber' wines
1996 1st amber experiments; 1st Gravner book
1990s start 'organic-uncertified'
1973 - 75 Josko takes over
1901 Josko's grandparents arrive, farming 2ha

VINEYARDS IN PRODUCTION:

Dedno: 2 steep parcels joined in 1996. Started planting to ribolla in 2010

Hum: 1966 merlot vv for Gravner Rosso; 1998 pignolo for Breg Rosso; 1996 ribolla, 1st section advised by Simonit & Sirch, now rolled out

Runk: had 1919 & 1952 ribolla vv, ripped late 2003.

Now 1998 & 2005 ribolla, 2005 pignolo. The plot that made Josko fall in love with ribolla

KIND WORDS ON KANTE:

Do Bianchi, 2016 'the once and future king of Carso-Karst'

A.Galloni, 2015 'The Kante style is defined by intense minerality and focus that places them alongside wines like the best Chablis in terms of weight and energy.'

A.Galloni, 2015 'Edi Kante is one of Friuli's few true superstar producers.'

A.Galloni, 2013 'Emotional. Moving. Intense. At their best, these are some of the most compelling, gripping whites being made in the world, anywhere. The late-release Selezioni in particular are well worth the effort of seeking out.'

A.Galloni, 2011 'What can I say about...Kante? Words are pretty superfluous when confronted with this stunning overall level of quality.'

A.Galloni, 2011 'Edi Kante's wines are at once intensely varietal yet also imbued with the deepest sense of the Carso, the rocky, hillside stretch of mountains where these vineyards lie. Think of Kante as Italy's Coche-Dury.'

Edi Kante, 2015 'How can you be clear headed if you're in love with what you do?'

Slow Wine Guide 2016 'Kante & Carso: they could be synonyms...one of the 1st producers to really believe in raising the profile of this amazing terroir'

Slow Wine Guide 2014 'Kante is an artist without a school, without a patron...his two inspiring muses; viticulture and enology.'

Slow Wine Guide 2012 'With his rigorous viticultural style, Kante has written the wine grammar of Carso'

KIND WORDS ON CARNASCIALE:

- A.Galloni, 2022 'Caberlot remains one of the most distinctive wines in all of Tuscany.'
 A.Galloni, 2019 'The Rogosky family has made compelling wines at Il Carnasciale pretty much since the beginning'
 A.Galloni, 2019 'Il Carnasciale's unique Cabernet Franc/Merlot crossing yields a wine of rare aromatic and flavor intensity '
 A.Galloni, 2019 'Readers won't want to miss these gorgeous wines from Il Carnasciale and the Rogosky family.'
 A.Galloni 2010 'one of Italy's cult wineries. The tiny production is typically snapped up by those in the know'
 A.Galloni 2009 'Over the years Il Carnasciale has acquired cult status among readers who crave the finest Tuscany has to offer'
 A.Galloni, 2007 'I was especially struck by how reminiscent Il Caberlot is of Giuseppe Quintarelli's Alzero, minus (the) sweetness'
 A.Galloni 2009 'These are some of the most unique wines from Italy.'
 A.Galloni 2008 'some truly magical wines'
 Slow Wine Guide 2018 'A visit to Podere Il Carnasciale is something we recommend to all wine buffs.'
 Slow Wine Guide 2014 'Careful selection and assemblage produce two unique, unforgettable wines'
 Slow Wine Guide 2013 'highly original wine reflects the decision to go for elegance, minerality, and a...never over the top potency.'
 N.Belfrage MW, 2014 in WFW 'not a simple wine - none of the great wines are - but rather a wine of contrasts that can be glorious.'
 &: 'doesn't Italy have enough wine grapes of it's own, for gawd's sake? But this is different. This is unique. This is Il Caberlot.'
 W.Speller, 2014 'in only 20 vintages Il Caberlot has established itself as a real cru from a piece of dirt'

M.Larner, TWA 2016 'one of Montefalco's extreme winemakers...desires to push Sagrantino...to its outer limits...in richness & overall density.'

Slow Wine Guide 2018 'class and substance, tradition and innovation, in a mix that succeeds in the task of drawing opposites together.'

Slow Wine Guide 2017 'eclectic and unstoppable...swift to achieve envious results and thus take on a role as a leader of Umbrian viticulture'

Slow Wine Guide 2016 'Few people are as good as Giampaolo Tabarrini at conveying contagious, spontaneous, unforced cheer.'

Slow Wine Guide 2014 'the winery combines respect for farm work with modern entrepreneurial spirit. It's an example for the whole area'

A.Galloni, 2013 'some of the most compelling wines in Montefalco. ...more finessed and refined than they have ever been'

A.Galloni, 2013 'Tabarrini is a young man, so it seems quite likely the best may still lie ahead.'

A.Galloni, 2011 'among Montefalco's elite growers'

A.Galloni, 2009 'It's awfully hard not to admire proprietor Giampaolo Tabarrini's outsize exuberance & sheer passion. With a little more maturity and confidence, and a touch less forceful winemaking, Tabarrini has the potential to develop into one of Umbria's top producers.'

Galo Lopez: "We firmly believe that caring for our vineyard is a hallmark in the production of wines with soul. Our viticulture values tradition. We manage the vineyard in a sustainable way, respecting the environment and upholding ecological values. Harvesting is manual and we carry it out with delicacy, in fruit boxes, avoiding any damage to the grapes. We are aware that wine is made on the vine."

KIND WORDS ON PICHLER-KRUTZLER:

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2022 'The quality of the wines...remains undeniably high, even in 2021, a vintage that combines the ripeness of 2019 with the acidity of 2010 or even 2014. However, the extracts—and therefore the internal density—are higher in the new wines, whose alcohol levels range between a moderate 12% and 13.5%. As always in recent years, the Alte Reben selection from Pfaffenberg is one of the estate's most impressive wines, led by the superb 2020. But the 2021 Rieslings from Loibenberg and Kellerberg are also fabulous and among the finest wines produced this year in the Wachau.'

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2020 'The resulting wines are terrific again, with structure, grip and tension...2018 is a great vintage for Pichler-Krutzler and is further establishing the domain among the best along the Danube River.'

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2020 'Pfaffenberg Grüner AR (&) Riesling prove once again that the site is one of the most exciting...of the former Wachau, today Kremstal.'

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2018 'another excellent series' (on 2017s)

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2017 'with peers Lucas Pichler and, most of all, Pichler-Krutzler...the very best...in the Wachau' (on Prager)

D.Schildknecht, TWA 2014 'Elisabeth & Erich continue to hone their distinctive style as well as to freely and intuitively experiment, unencumbered by local habit or by the structure of the Vinea Wachau'

D.Schildknecht, TWA 2014 'Pichler and Krutzler continue to build their vine surface via some extremely savvy and lucky site selections, their technical capabilities are being enhanced as well.'

KIND WORDS ON NIKOLAIHOF:

David Schildknecht, 2017 'unique, perhaps literally inimitable style of Nikolaihof wines'

David Schildknecht, 2015 'There is typically a restraint and subtlety to the Nikolaihof Rieslings and Grüner Veltliners'

David Schildknecht, 2008 'Even the most understated bottlings – perhaps those in particular – make a completely convincing statement.'

Suckling, 2015 'exudes a certain kind of stillness, evoking bygone times while modern winemaking techniques take hold of many wineries'

PICHLER ON PICHLER:

F.X. 'Our passion lies in creating a wine that is an experience for the senses, an artistic synthesis.'

F.X. 'You have to have an idea of wine. I love to work in the vineyard - the creative act of winemaking begins in spring.'

F.X. 'A great wine is synonymous with a prime vineyard site. Yet there is an irrepressible will to create something great: this is an instinct that cannot be taught, as it demands sheer intuition.'

Lucas 'We make seamless wines, that's our hallmark.'

Lucas 'We respect wine and give it space to evolve.'

Lucas 'We are fascinated by the wines from the Kellerberg because of their precision, for which few words can adequately do justice.'

A wine from the Kellerberg is always a grand wine'

The family: 'The varieties of nature are infinite, but every vineyard resembles a microcosm that reflects life and history, and even our family.'

The family: 'The "M" is always a mystical wine, with opulence and concentrated minerality. It encompasses both wine monuments and moments for decades to come'

KIND WORDS ON PRAGER, etc.:

D.Schildknecht, Vinous 2017 'highly informed and insightful' (on Toni Bodenstein)

D.Schildknecht, Vinous 2015 'Over the course of the 1990s, Toni Bodenstein elevated the stature of his father-in-law Franz Prager's estate to international notoriety with wines that consistently continue to be among the most complex, intriguing and subtle of any of the world's Rieslings or GVs. The scientifically trained Bodenstein's observations and hypotheses regarding the connections between geology and viticulture are as insightful and thought-through as any I have heard.'

Joel Payne, Vinous 2013 'More than anywhere else in the Wachau, the differences between vintages and sites are readily apparent here, even transparent. For many collectors, Bodenstein is best known for his rieslings, which some have called almost Germanic in style. ...clear, precise, fresh and a touch reductive in character...they are pure expressions of the variety that reflect the character of their soils.'

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2020 '(Prager) Rieslings I have always found great'

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2020 'In this decade, the wines from (Gruner Wachstum Bodenstein) vines planted in 1997 have reached a level that is rivaled only by the very best wines in the Wachau and along the Danube River.'

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2017 'with peers Lucas Pichler and, most of all, Pichler-Krutzler, this is again the very best...in the Wachau'

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2016 'Toni Bodenstein's collection of Riesling and Gruner Veltliner Smaragds set the benchmark'

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2016 'There are world class wines amongst them, true classics'

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2015 'Smaragd wines have a remarkable greenish shimmering white-golden color...indicates their reductive style'

Wine Spectator, 2012 'the perennial quality leader'

David Schildknecht, W&S, 2004 'Top 50 Most Influential Winemakers' (in the world)

David Schildknecht, W&S, 2004 'Many talk terroir, but few are so fluent.'

David Schildknecht, W&S, 2004 'Bodenstein's (riesling) mastery ranks with that of Hermann Donnhof or Olivier Humbrecht'

David Schildknecht, W&S, 2004 'an example of enthusiastic and intelligent experimentalism'

Toni Bodenstein, 2016 'it is not important anymore to be the last producer harvesting. It is much more important to pick in the right moment'

Toni Bodenstein, 2014 'I only cellar the Achleiten bottlings. Else, the library would grow cumbersomely large!'

Toni Bodenstein, 2011 'To deacidify (2010s) would have been to risk stripping them of their souls.'

Motto: 'Schiefer.pur - Pure slate'
 Motto in life: 'Less is more - wish for less'

Uwe 'The clayey-loamy terroir with a high iron content on ancient steep slopes makes it possible to produce red wines that are full of character and appear almost cool. I rely on puristic, natural viticulture. Herbs and plants between the rows of vines can and should also grow there. Man, the pannonian climate with hot days and cool nights and the unique soil give my wines everything they need. Nature makes my wines. I just make sure that the right thing happens at the right moment: cutting, thinning, reading – no more and no less. What nature provides is carefully implemented in the cellar. All wines ferment spontaneously and slowly mature on the lees in barrels of various sizes. No technology, merciless simplicity, pronounced minerality - wines with practiced origin: courageous, unvarnished and with an almost dogmatic purism: pure slate!'

Mosel Fine Wines ('MFW'), Jun.20018 'This Estate is on fire!'

MFW 2021 'a superb collection which shines through presence, finesse and intensity' (on 2020s)

MFW 2021 'The "simple" Alte Reben is anything but simple and will give many premium wines a good run for their money.'

MFW 2021 'The 1896 is, again, a stunning effort and, again, a candidate for off-dry wine of the vintage.' (on 2020)

Roman Niewodniczanski of Van Volxem 2017 'Loewen has done great things'

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2018 '1896 from the Longuich Maximin Herrenberg is simply one of the finest wines produced in the Mosel (in 2016)'

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2015 'wide range of very clear, elegant and aromatic Rieslings with a pronounced acidity, most of them dry, tasting dry'

D.Schildknecht, Vinous 2016 'the Mosel's most inspiring and ambitious example of...'mountain rescue' – namely, the revival of once justly renowned but long-neglected steep-slope Mosel vineyards'

D.Schildknecht, TWA 2013 'I have been following and lauding Karl-Josef Loewen's wines and sharing high-quality tasting and chin wagging with him since a time when he was still little-known.'

K.J.Loewen, 2017 'I don't want to make wines great; I try to find out which sites make great wines'

K.J.Loewen, 2010 'The trick is to make little wine from many bunches, rather than little wine from few bunches.'

Andreas 'I sustain my vineyards by intensive soil work to bring out the essential nutrients up from the primary rock, the natural compost of a vineyard.

This completion of the bond between elemental soil and the work of the vintner is another piece in the puzzle of terroir... I think in Germany we see terroir as a unity of grape, climate, soil, and the mentality of the person who works the vineyard. But the essence of that mentality is a knowledge that the geology of his terrain indeed creates the flavors in the grapes which grow there.'

KIND WORDS ON F.HAAG:

D.Schildknecht, WFW 2021 'Mosel mastery'

D.Schildknecht, WFW 2021 'There remains no finer such Gutsriesling than that of Fritz Haag, then as now based substantially on the family's Burgen vines'

D.Schildknecht, WFW 2021 'noble sweet wines - a genre he mastered early but never ceased fine-tuning'

D.Schildknecht, TWA 2008 'superlatives are hardly new to this address'

Mosel Fine Wine ('MFW') 2020 '(Haag) produced a simply mesmerizing collection in 2019, certainly its finest in a generation. The finesse, precision, and balance of the wines are simply awe-inspiring.'

MFW 2020 'we rarely write this: But, at Fritz Haag, in 2019, you can buy blind. Everything is superb. And this is a rare achievement, even by Oliver Haag's impeccable standards'

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2018 '2016 proves impressively that the Brauneberger Juffer Sonnenuhr is one of the finest vineyards along the Mosel.'

S.Reinhardt, TWA 2017 'world-class beerenauslese and trockenbeerenauslese'

HAAG ON F.HAAG:

Oliver Haag, 2019 'It's Riesling that runs through my veins!'

Oliver Haag, 2019 'Overall, I want to produce wines that people actually drink!'

Oliver Haag on GGs, 2019 'My GGs are made from very clean grapes, as I don't want to see any botrytis-affected berry in the buckets for my dry wines. It is usually one of the last wines to be picked, as I want clean but really ripe grapes where the acidity has mellowed away. Riesling is about acid but it needs to remain playful and subtle. We use pre-fermentation cold soak to add body and structure to our top dry wines. However, we use it parsimoniously, for not more than 6-18 hours. Our GGs often see some traditional Fuder casks, none new. Most of our wines are fermented with ambient yeasts as this adds complexity to the wines. (I may also rely on some cultured yeasts to finish the fermentation of dry wines, if necessary.) My GG wines are left on the fine lees until the summer.'

Wilhelm Haag, 2008 'Kabinett is one of those things nobody can copy from us Moselaner'

Wilhelm Haag, 2001 'The style of wine at my estate has remained constant, and is based on the notion of quality that my father drummed into me.

Setting aside nobly sweet wines, we aim for wines that are filigree, seemingly fragile, neither sweet nor bone-dry but piquant and tangy [herb].

Over and beyond that, they should be bekömmlich. What good is a Riesling to me that leaves one tired after the second glass, whereas with a light Kabinett, real wine-thirst would only just be awakening?'

U.S.A., California - RRV

KIND WORDS ON DUMOL, etc.:

- Rose Murray Brown MW, The Scotsman 2019 'What sets Smith apart from his winemaking peers is his vineyard experience and his relentless experimentation to achieve perfection.'
- Rose Murray Brown MW, 2019 'a few years bottle maturation in a cool Scottish cellar can develop his Californian wines into real beauties.'
- Galloni, Vinous 2023 (on 2021s) 'a breathtaking range. I was blown away by the wines I tasted from DuMOL this year...one of the greatest vintages I have tasted here. That is evident from the very first wines in this lineup. The Chardonnays are incredibly pure and brilliant. It's much the same in the Pinots, a stunning collection of wines that reaches its apogee with the Pinot Noir McIntyre, one of the greatest California Pinots I have ever tasted. The theme of delineation and vibrancy continues through to the Syrahs and Cabernets. This is a very special set of wines...'
- Galloni, Vinous 2022 (on 2020s) 'Andy Smith and his team turned out a positively stellar set of 2020 Sonoma wines in...one of the most challenging years'
- Galloni, Vinous 2021 (on 2019s) 'This is a pretty remarkable set of new releases from DuMOL. The Pinots achieved a level of richness that was not easy in a year with a fair amount of rain early in the season, while the Syrahs and Chardonnays are terrific. Winemaker Andy Smith describes 2019 as a year with uneven flowering, especially in Pinot and Syrah, which resulted in small bunches and naturally low yields...In my view, though, the biggest driver of style at DuMOL is an emphasis on freshness and energy that defines the wines today as compared to a decade ago...'
- Galloni, Vinous 2021 'Another key development has been DuMOL's transformation into an estate winery. Today, nearly all the Pinot and Syrah are estate, as is more than half of the Chardonnay.'
- Galloni, Vinous 2021 (on 2018s) 'My tastings at DuMOL are usually pretty epic, as I sample two vintages of pretty much the entire range. The (2018s) are brilliant across the board, just as they were from barrel. Andy Smith describes 2018 as a year with moderate temperatures, especially at harvest time, which allowed for picking tiny sections of vineyards in small, separate passes. From top to bottom, this is an impressive lineup.'
- Galloni, Vinous 2020 'Over the years, I have learned to allow for plenty of time for my tastings at DuMol. Chardonnays and Pinots remain the strong suits, because they form the core of the range and have really been fine tuned over time.'
- Galloni, Vinous 2016 'Smith seems to have settled into a more relaxed, comfortable style at DuMol. Smith is picking a bit earlier and going for more freshness and energy in his wines. The results are truly spectacular.'
- Galloni, Vinous 2016 'Andy Smith has really dialed in his approach here over the last few years, and it shows. Harvest dates have been moved up, while in general Smith is seeking a bit more freshness in his wines than was the case a few years ago.'
- Galloni, Vinous 2014 'the wines capture a middle ground built on balance above all else. The wines are rich & layered but never heavy.'
- Wine Enthusiast, 2022 'Sonoma winemaker devoted to complete control and a sense of place'
- Elaine Chukan Brown, 2015 'beautiful integrity from bottling to bottling. DuMOL wines offer concentrated flavor and structural density with bright fruit, and delicious acidity across varieties thanks to the farming, while cellar choices preserve the wines' pleasing texture and freshness.'
- Jeb Dunnuck, 2021 (on 2019s) 'DuMOL, under the guidance of Andy Smith, continues to make brilliant, classic wines...'
- Jeb Dunnuck, 2020 (on 2018s) 'This was easily the finest set of releases I have tasted from winemaker Andy Smith.'
- Jeb Dunnuck, 2018 'Stylistically, Smith makes a fresh, vibrant style of wine, yet I never find them lacking for depth and or texture... Chardonnays are made in a reductive, age-worthy style and the clear majority have distinctly Burgundian profiles... the top Pinot Noirs are certainly up with the crème de la crème of the region. DuMol also produces a handful of world-class Syrahs.'
- Erin Brooks, TWA 2020 'Some producers made potential 'career' wines in 2018, and the lineup of wines from ... Dumol [is] the best I have ever tasted.'
- Lisa P-B MW, TWA, 2018 'the prices for the quality will blow you away.'
- R.Parker TWA 2014 'Approaching its 20th anniversary, the breadth of high-quality, complex Chardonnays and Pinot...is stunning.'
- R.Parker TWA 2014 'consider that Burgundy wines of a similar quality sell for nearly twice as much'
- R.Parker, TWA 2013 'Since its founding in 1996, DuMol has been one of the superstar wineries of the entire California North Coast. They primarily focus on gorgeous Burgundian-styled Chardonnays from cool micro-climates'
- R.Parker TWA 2011 'I would have to rank DuMol as one of my favorite half dozen producers of California Chardonnay'
- R.Parker TWA 2008 'This is one of the superstar sources of tremendous Chardonnay and Pinot Noir'
- R.Parker TWA, 2007 'doing sensational work in the cool-climate areas of the Russian River. This has become one of my fav. tastings of the year, and not only are their Chardonnays and Pinot world-class...This is a winery that is clearly on top of its game'
- R.Parker TWA, 2006 'DuMol is one of my favorite wineries, primarily because of the passion and commitment to quality'
- R.Parker TWA, 2005 'In the past four years, this has become one of my favorite stops on my tasting trip through California's North Coast. One can't say enough about owner Kerry Murphy and his talented winemaker, Scotsman Andy Smith.'

ANDY SMITH ON RUSSIAN RIVER, SONOMA COAST, CALIFORNIA:

- Andy Smith, 2019 'I first visited California in 1992 and fell in love with the place. I loved the feel, atmosphere and people: the wine industry was quite 'folksie' and less corporate than – it was an exciting innovative environment.'
- Andy Smith, 2017 'Back in 1996, as latter-day pioneers in the Russian River Valley, we had the privilege to plant and partner with many of the most distinctive cool-climate vineyards in this magical wine-growing region. Over the years, we discovered inspiring, singular sites beyond the Russian River Valley that translate into our diverse portfolio of small-lot wines.'
- Andy Smith, 2019 'Floods, mudslides, heat spikes, wildfires are just things we are having to learn to deal with as the climate becomes more extreme'
- Andy Smith, 2019 '(But) most of the time living in low-key pastoral Sonoma running an artisan winery is like living in Eden'

ANDY SMITH ON GROWERS:

- Andy Smith 'Over two decades(+), we've gained access to some truly legendary sites. And we've achieved close personal relationships with our growers. Our shared respect for the land, our dedication to the work, and our mutual respect for each other carry through to the final product. We work with good people and we're going to make some amazing wines.'

ANDY SMITH ON THE (GROWING) ESTATE:

- Andy Smith, 2021 'You can't make great wine unless you have great vineyards. It's like a chef can't make a great dish without great ingredients.'
- Any Smith, 2021 'if you want to be taken seriously on a global scale, you need to be an estate winery. In 2003, I knew to take DuMOL further, I needed land.'
- Andy Smith, 2021 'It comes down to how you prepare the land, the decisions you make based on quality, not logistics or a return on investment. It's 100% your vision and the detailed, nuanced choices that boost quality, from vine spacing to the long-term soil health and genetics of the plant material matter after decades. You're building up intimacy with the vineyards and the land.'

ANDY SMITH ON DuMOL's CORE PHILOSOPHY:

- Andy Smith 'We have a fully integrated approach to farming and winemaking, a seamless continuum.'
- Andy Smith 'Each bottling is built in the vineyard. Soil types, microclimates, plant material, maturity levels, how the vines react to the growing conditions, how we react to the vines – there are so many detailed variables. The nuance, the depth and complexity of the fruit that results from those variables – that's what we aim to achieve and translate to bottle: purity, vibrancy, freshness – intensity without heaviness.'

ANDY SMITH ON PLANTING & FARMING:

- Andy Smith, BBC 2017 'I'm a very pragmatic Scottish farmer. I'm not interested in cutting corners, I'm not interested in compromising. You have to have a down to earth practicality and I think that's a Scottish thing.'
- Andy Smith, 2015 'I don't like any extremes – no extreme pruning, no extreme exposure to the grapes, not too much, if any irrigation. Vines are a crop we maximize, and you maximize that by making the vine work hard, not stressed but hard.'
- Andy Smith, 2021 '(The Estate is) organically farmed vineyard. We don't use any herbicide. We don't add any synthetic fertilisers. We make our own compost and add that every 3-4 years. The more we can minimise inputs into the vines, the more natural expression of that place that we end up bottling.'
- Andy Smith, 2015 'Today farming includes beautiful cover crops, insectary rows, and then seeing the results. For me, that is the exciting part. You can taste the results as well. The wines taste better at lower alcohol.'
- Andy Smith, 2019 'My current focus is experimenting with high density planting up to 9,000 vines/ha compared to the usual 2,500 in California. This gives wines with savoury and botanical notes, as in Estate Chardonnay (and Pinot)'

Andy Smith, 2015 'The way we farm with tight spacing, we are looking for grapes that are bright and fresh, with thick skins though we are achieving that without exposing the clusters to sun. It gives more herbal complexity, dense deep tones, and bright fruit.'

Andy Smith 'Once a vine hits about 9-10 years old, the uniformity of the vine growth becomes regular and defined and the resulting fruit quality really takes a strong step ahead... Then around fourteen years there is another plateau, and vines become much more self regulating.'

Andy Smith, 2021 'At 14 years old now the (Estate) vineyard is really in charge, it knows what it is doing. We just have to guide it along the way.'

Andy Smith, 2021 'We are just looking for balanced vines, and that's a balance between the amount of grape bunches, and the number of leaves on the vine. That's a fairly delicate equilibrium that we have to find, and it varies each year. That's really the heart of what we call vinegrowing.'

ANDY SMITH ON THE CELLAR:

Andy Smith, 2018 '(The harvest -) it's all at the winery by 8.30am(!)

Andy Smith, 2019 'I'd rather harvest a couple days early, for any variety—they can grow in the barrel.'

Andy Smith 'As a 'vineyard up' winery, we remain very close to the ingredients, close to the vineyards. Our winemaking technique is second to what we achieve in the field. The vision of the winemaker starts in the field.'

Andy Smith 'It takes time to discover a vineyard's defining characteristics and even longer to employ the right winemaking technique to draw out those features in the wines. It requires sensitivity, a lightness of touch. We try not to layer in too many winemaking techniques. We try not to obscure the vineyard character. Ultimately, this allows us to achieve a more complex, multi-dimensional, effortless quality in our wines.'

ANDY SMITH ON CRUS:

Andy Smith, 2015 '(Re) the single vineyard thing. There has to be something distinctive, and agreeable, and verifiable, and repeatable.'

Andy Smith, 2021 'Most vineyards have one or two defining characteristics or features: I would call that the vineyard's signature. So we really try to draw out those very specific small nuances of each parcel.'

ANDY SMITH ON THE WINES:

Andy Smith 'Highland Divide, for me, describes a very special zone that separates the valley floor of the Russian River from the Sonoma Coast. That's really the tenderloin section of the Russian River Valley itself. I always find that we get our best grapes from this area.'

Andy Smith, 2019 'it is the soil which really dictates the (wine) character. Sandstone gives the roots great energy'

Andy Smith, 2015 'To me the wine [from Occidental Road, Green Valley] always has a sense of air-oir, not just terroir, a conifer-spicy element.'

Andy Smith, 2017 'Our goal is a lightness of touch, an intimacy with the fruit, a fluidity. We want to capture the feeling we get from having worked a site for decades'

Andy Smith, 2015 'I like texture, but I also like freshness. Any texture or density should come from the vines.'

Andy Smith, 2019 'The best Californian wines have precision, structure and consistency, but they are more forward in comparison to French equivalents from Burgundy, Bordeaux or Rhone – and currently offer better value compared to the top French classics'

ANDY SMITH ON THE DuMOL TEAM:

Andy Smith, 2018 'We stick to what works and are focused on the fundamentals. We find inspiration in master, visionary producers around the world as we continually hone our craft—never imitating, ever refining.'

Andy Smith, 2018 'We live the wine. This is a project that comes from who we are and what we love.'

Andy Smith, 2017 'We are a tight-knit, passionate, driven team. Ours is an inner journey, a personal challenge, the ongoing quest to capture the strongest sense and finest details - the core essence - of vineyard and vintage.'

Andy Smith, 2021 'It is not just a vocation, it's very much who we are. It's our livelihood as well as our passion. It's what gets us up in the morning, and what drives us to improve and to express ourselves. And that's the way it should be.'

FROM ANDY SMITH & TEAM TO YOU:

Tom Pillsbury, 2018 'Thank you for playing a key role in bringing these wines to market. We are ever grateful for your partnership, drive, and passion for excellent wines. We look forward to a prosperous and productive year ahead.'

Andy Smith, 2018 'I hope you enjoy the wines as much as we enjoyed the challenge of growing, vinifying and bottling them.'

KIND WORDS ON RAMIISOL, etc.:

Motto 'Sempre Migliorando' - 'always improving'

Our Mission 'To fulfill Thomas Jefferson's dream to produce world class, natural*, authentic Virginia wines.'

Thomas Jefferson 'We could...make as great a variety of wines as are made in Europe, not exactly of the same kinds, but doubtless as good.'

Robert A.Hefner III 'we are always evolving because we strictly follow my first mentor's admonition; that to understand nature's infinite complexity demands an unbound mind.'

Pedro Parra 'biodynamics gives to terroir whatever you can't see in the soil pit. It's about energy: the 4th dimension in wine in addition to climate, soil, man.'

Alberto Antonini 'The New World will remain the New World until people stop thinking in a New World way.'

Alberto Antonini 'Less is more, but in order to do less, you need to know more.'

Alberto Antonini 'Great wines are about special places and special people'

Alberto Antonini 'Premium wines always talk about their origin and never about the grape variety.'

Alberto Antonini 'I've worked with a lot of soil experts but very few know about wine, and that's useless for me. Pedro (Parra) is one of the few to connect terroir with wine – with him I talk tannins, flavours, acidity, not just rocks.'

New Zealand, North Island

Dry River was sold in late 2022. We therefore just shipped in the largest quantity ever allocated to the UK. These last vintages bottled by Wilco Lam's team are simply incredible, as Dry River had become a winery for whom superlatives were not enough. In all of the six main grape varieties that they made, they came to make one of the reference examples of each genre, in not just New Zealand, but the world.

This was demonstrated and celebrated at the 40th birthday party we held with Wilco and founder Dr.Neil McCallum at Restaurant 34, with Miles Butler as host.

As always, their wines grow so dramatically with time, by design, that we want people who are drinking now to be ordering the vintages with the most bottle age possible. However, if you are buying to cellar for the mid-to-long term, just ask for the price on the younger wines. Every DR wine is good for 10 years minimum, and the top vintages 20 to 30 years thus far.'

KIND WORDS ON FELTON ROAD:

Nick Stock, JamesSuckling.com 2015 'If Central Otago was the Cote de Nuits, then Bannockburn would be Vosne-Romanée, and Felton Road would be the top gun, the DRC.'

Nick Stock, JamesSuckling.com 2015 'Greening is a man whose mind circumnavigates the world of thought at satellite-like height'

Jamie Goode, 2013 'Felton Road is one of the legendary names in New Zealand wine.'

Jamie Goode, 2013 'highly regarded Pinot Noirs'

A.Meadows, 2016 'probably New Zealand's most well-known pinot noir producer'

N.Martin, 2009 'a very Burgundian style of Pinot Noir that prioritizes elegance and finesse over power and concentration'

N.Martin, 2008 'one of New Zealand's best producers'

Parker, TWA #122 'Felton Rd's Pinots Noirs...compete with the finest wines being made in California, Oregon, & Burgundy's Cote D'Or.'

Parker, Wine Buyer's Guide 'growers/producers who have received 5* ratings are those who make the world's finest wines, and they selected for this rating for two reasons: first, because they make the greatest wine of their particular Viticultural region, and second, because they are remarkably consistent and reliable even in mediocre and poor vintages.'

Nigel Greening, 2018 'There's a savoury edge that we are starting to nail, as opposed to just the sweet fruit.'

Nigel Greening, 2013 'Chardonnay might be New Zealand's greatest strength. It's at least as strong a story as Pinot Noir.'

ALKINA ON ALKINA:

Alkina - a girl's name meaning 'Moon' or 'Moonlight'.

Alkina motto 'Pure. Authentic. Terroir Wines.'

Alkina 'a new story on an old place. It's a journey through ancient stones and soils, organic and biodynamic viticulture, small scale winemaking and the creation of unique micro-terroir wines, all grown and made on our estate in the Western Barossa ranges.'

Alkina 'Mother nature's elements worked together in harmony to create the unique terroir that produced this wine of distinction. The creekline that carves its way through the property, undulating hills, rocks nestled together and deep layers of soil are intrinsically Alkina.'

Alkina 'The 'Kin by Alkina' wines celebrate our community of makers, thinkers and artists. The range allows us to explore different parts of the vineyard each year and then trial ideas and blends. It also gives us the opportunity to expand our winemaking knowledge, particularly with whole bunch levels and extended skin contact.'

Alkina '...making good wine and putting it in a smart bottle isn't enough for us. It might not be enough for a lot of drinkers anymore either. What a glass of wine tastes like is still crucial...but increasingly what that glass of wine stands for is catching up.'

KIND WORDS ON ALKINA etc.:

Max Allen, 2023 'the team at young winery Alkina Estate has been digging deep (literally) to come up with some extraordinary releases.'

Mike Bennie, WineFront 2021 'There's a lot going on at Alkina, notably some very good biodynamic farming, but also a lot of considered winemaking'

Tim Atkin MW, 2015 '(Michel) Rolland, for all his talents as a winemaker, is the general leading the old guard; Antonini is the rebel commander of the new.'

Peter Richards MW, Decanter 2013 'if you like wine (especially New World and Italian wine) and are interested in how it's made and what its future might hold, you need to know these men.' (Antonini & Parra)

Pedro Parra, 2013 'biodynamics gives to terroir whatever you can't see in the soil pit. It's about energy: the 4th dimension in wine in addition to climate, soil, man.'

Parra, 2013 'when I met Alberto (in 2007) everything changed. Alberto is great with people and ideas. We're a good team because he's an expert in assessing projects and people, knowing where to focus our energies. He's taught me a lot about wine tasting, too.

And Alberto's also changed – he's a purist now, like me, working more naturally.'

ALBERTO ANTONINI ON OTHERS:

Antonini, 2013 'I've worked with a lot of soil experts but very few know about wine, and that's useless for me.

Pedro is one of the few to connect terroir with wine – with him I talk tannins, flavours, acidity, not just rocks.'

Antonini 'The only problem with Pedro is that we are both music lovers and fanatic collectors of vinyl records –

so sometimes when we get together we forget about wines and terroirs..!'

Antonini, 2014 'I learned the most from Gianfranco Soldera at Montalcino's Case Basse 25 years ago. He's not a winemaker but he's responsible for some of the best wines in the world. I've recently told him that after all these years I've gone back to things he was telling me back then.'

(updated Sep.2023)

Antonini, 2014 'What makes the difference is mostly the soil, so I rely upon understanding this, studying terroir to make sure I can focus upon the best part of the vineyards. Also I use whatever good tools are available to make a proper study, and do the best management in the vineyards...If you can identify the very best spots of the vineyard and separate that fruit from the other sites, then you can really make some of the best wines.'

ON WINEMAKING:

Antonini, 2013 'The first step is to be aware that you need to learn, and then set about gaining that knowledge.'

Antonini, 2014 'I don't believe in 'winemaking'—you cannot add quality in the cellar.'

Antonini, 2017 'If you want to get a lot you can't do too much to distract the wine from its own life and avenue to expressing the essence of the place it's from.'

Antonini, 2013 'Less is more, but in order to do less, you need to know more.'

Antonini, 2015 'I want to be invisible in my wines. If you recognise me not the place, I say what have I done wrong?'

ON WINE:

Antonini, 2019 'Great wines are about special places and special people'

Antonini 'Premium wines always talk about their origin and never about the grape variety.'

Antonini, 2011 'after a while, you get tired of drinking the grape variety. You want to drink the region, you want to drink the history, you want to drink something that teaches you something.'

Antonini, 2011 'The world of wine is great because apart from the pleasure of drinking, it's a great learning experience. If you follow the wine, the wine takes you to know the world, to know beautiful regions, different climates, different cultures, different people, different traditions. That's what's great about wine'

Antonini, 2012 'I like (it) when I feel that the wine I am drinking is teaching me something. I don't like when it is just a nice drink.'

ON THE MARKET:

Antonini 'Premium wine production is all about uniqueness. The only way to achieve this is to make and sell something which cannot be duplicated. The grape variety can be duplicated everywhere; origin cannot.'

Antonini, 2013 'Great wine is about emotion. I believe more in the Burgundian concept – that, at a very high level, uniqueness is more important than perfection. Then you just have to educate people to appreciate what you do. That's what I'm working on: I like a challenge.'

Antonini, 2015 'It's up to me to explain to people why I'm doing what I'm doing. It's time we persuaded people to switch from Schwarzenegger to Michelangelo's David.'

Antonini, 2021 'passion allows you to do business perfectly, and then the market itself comes to the winemaker.'

ON 'LIMITATIONS':

Antonini, 2013 'The New World will remain the New World until people stop thinking in a New World way.'

Antonini, 2015 'The five enemies of terroir are over-ripe grapes, over-extraction, over-oaking, vineyard chemicals and the winemaker.'

Antonini, 2014 'If you avoid using chemicals you have a healthy environment and better expression of the true terroir. It's not only that chemicals damage the environment, but that chemicals 'flatten' the final taste of the wine.'

Antonini 'Stainless steel tanks smell like death. Concrete vessels that are well-maintained, smell of life.'

Antonini 'My concern about selling the 'grape variety' is that sooner or later we may end up in a commodity business which isn't what premium wines are about.'

Antonini, 2015 'How have we allowed people to persuade us that (high) drinkability should not be associated with great wines? It's crazy.'

KIND WORDS ON POWELL & SON, etc.:

Langton's, 2019 'there's no denying his uncanny ability to coax the best grapes out of a vineyard, the best wines out of the grapes.'

Dave Powell, 2016 'Torbreck got too big and it got away from me... or rather I got away from it.'

Jeb Dunnuck 'These brilliant wines are unquestionably at the same quality level as anything Powell has achieved in the past'

LPB, TWA 2017 'bright, intense, polished wines crafted with elegance and great poise'

LPB, TWA 2015 'David Powell is back'

LPB, TWA 2017 'The only downside is the small quantities.'

LPB, TWA 2017 'extraordinary intensity, complexity and balance'

Joe Czerwinski, TWA 2018 'they're definitively not Torbreck'

Joe Czerwinski, TWA 2018 'impossible to go wrong with any of the latest releases.'

Joe Czerwinski, TWA 2018 'there's a finer eye on the oak and gentle extraction, all in pursuit of intricacy and detail'

LEVI DALTON 'IDTT' INTERVIEW #205

GROWER CODE: SADIE

KIND WORDS ON SIJNN, etc:

S.Tanzer, Vinous 2017 'Touriga Nacional, the top red (of the) Douro region, appears to have found a home in the cooler climate of Malgas'
 J.Robinson MW, 2016 'One of the most exciting things about wine is that there are still clearly undiscovered wine regions with real potential.'
 J.Robinson MW, 2016 'The wines have real poise and geographical signature about them.'
 J.Robinson MW, 2016 'I gave all these wines either 16.5 or 17 out of 20 – high scores for miserly me.'
 J.Molesworth, Wine Spectator, 2013 'he's already pulled together a white & red with a thoroughly distinct profile, steadily improving quality'
 J.Molesworth, Wine Spectator, 2013 'I think it's important for anyone who appreciates the efforts that go into making wine to try and track down a few bottles of Sijnn. There are few projects that epitomize such a soulful, pioneering approach to winemaking.'
 J.Robinson MW, 2010 'The overall impression is of a South African red that is unusually lively, complex, confident and creditable'
 J.Robinson MW, 2010 'this wine is likely to become more expensive as it establishes the reputation of this exciting new region'
 J.Goode, 2010 'a serious South African red blend.. The vineyards are a long way from anywhere, on the Breede River'
 Sijnn 'At Sijnn, everything we do revolves around our unique location and terroir. We believe in natural farming and natural winemaking, and focus our skills on blending Mediterranean-style varieties that are best suited to our climate.'

SOME THOUGHTS ON CARLO GOBETTI, 1940-2020:

Carlo Gobetti was unique. In the world of white spirits, he was occasionally equalled, but never surpassed. He defined small batch, total transparency, total experience, total quality, insane consistency. I met with him most years since 1998 in the Springtime up at the distillery, on a limestone ridge high over Lake Garda. He was one of my teachers, particularly with respect to tasting. Yet if you passed him on the street, you might have thought 'there's a short Gandalf,' but not that you were passing greatness.

Who might his peers be? Very few, for many reasons: perhaps Martine Lafitte of Boingneres; the team behind Octomore & Port Charlotte. In wine terms, people who excel in really every product with consistency are also rare. We all have our favourites, but the list is short.

Just before Gobetti joined Raeburn, a party of three went to visit with Zubair. They complained all the way up the hill, but then almost never descended. As a result, Raeburn have the proud position of being the 1st importer in the world to ship Gobetti by the pallet.

After some years of illness, Carlo passed away in the Summer of 2020, aged 80. He loved sailing, his family and spirits. He liked wine, introduced us to some firm favourites now on our list, like Raval's Bardolino, and Corte Lenguin Valpol'. Our thoughts are with his family. One day someone will write a book about the Gobettis, the 2nd oldest legal distillery in Italy, one of the first to distill whole grapes. And what about the still design, distillation, aging, dilution (or non-dilution), his legal declaration to his clients? More of that, anon... David Harvey, Summer 2021 special attribute focus selections: aka 'somm-central'

What makes great wine? Certainly, great growers, great terroir, great genetic vine material, great vintages, custom equipment, great work, quality cork. Beyond that, there are a few attributes that can make phenomenal differences.

One is ungrafted vines, when compared to grafted vines nearby. Aka non-greffés, pie(de) franco, franc de pied. (Pre-phylloxera is incorrect, unless they pre-date ~1863.) Great examples are Noval Nacional VP, JJ Prum, Bollinger VVF, Cornelissen's ungrafted crus, pre-1945 Romanée Conti. Luigi Veronelli wrote that Lisini's Brunello Profilosero was like "the earth singing to the sky." Many of the world's great growers have planted ungrafted trial blocks - and almost every single one has lost them.

Another attribute are tres vieilles vignes, aka TVV, centenarian vines, vignes centenaires. I was first made aware of this on Joseph Roty's 1980s bottlings of Charmes Chambertin de Tres Vieilles Vignes. It's not that older is necessarily better, as it's not. However. Some of these old parcels, the first planted after phylloxera to old biotypes, produce modest yields of incredible wine. See the lists below for examples. (FYI on the list, we use 'VV' to signify vieilles vignes over 60 years, and 'TVV' for 100 years and over.)

Massale vines, even if extremely young are another attribute. However, they're too numerous to single out here, (apart from Andy Smith's many successive plantings of post-phylloxera pinot noir selections in RRV.) Long elevage, for the wines/styles that merit it, is fantastic for concentration, stability, natural clarity, depth and development. High altitude vines are invariably more interesting than lower altitude vines at the same latitude. The vines and grapes are exposed to higher UV, colder days and nights, large diurnal range, longer growing season. This amounts to higher risk, but also lower alcohol levels, higher acidity levels, more intense fruit flavours and precise tannins. Lastly, for now, long in-bottle maturation. Ongoing reactions in bottle are a source of joy. Not just 'aging' but development, maturation, progression of aromas, combined with changes in structure, perception thereof. In wine, like cigars, a middle level product given extended aging in perfect conditions will often outperform the greatest product approached at the wrong moment, &/or stored poorly. Collectively, these selections are some of our favourite wines on the list...

art label section:

As wine people, it's what's in the glass that counts. As sentient people, the means of production, environmental footprint and potential contribution are ever increasingly an integral part of the picture. Some producers go beyond vinous and ethical beauty, with splendid labels by artists and designers. This awakens the brain, attracts the eye, and importantly, entices people in from outside the somewhat insular wine world: no bad thing.

Baron Philippe de Rothschild started the annual artist label program in 1945 at Mouton, inspiring many others over time. My favourites? Unquestionably Le Pergola Torte by Monteverdine, who use abstracts of women from paintings by Alberto Manfredi. Now joined by Damien Coulthard's canvasses for Alkina, Barossa. Below are examples from Raeburn's portfolio: as ever, we are liquid led, but these go further by also pleasing the eye...

flora focus section, A-Z:

Year	Size
-------------	-------------

The wines in this selection are named after grains, flowers, trees, mostly due to plants by the vines or cellar, like the pines at Le Pin or Tirecul. Some are named by flowers that grow in the vines, like the Gueules de Loup / snapdragons at Goisot's parcel. Others are merely romantic. In any case, vines on their own, in monoculture, are not sustainable and thus not really that interesting.

So what is interesting? More plants, more life, expansion into polyculture, cover-cropping, rotation, arboriculture, agroforestry. The other plants involved help bring AMFs, worms, insects, and finally vertebrates (birds and animals). This increase in biodiversity helps generate and aerate soil, increase drainage, increase vine's defenses, and decrease risk of pathogens. We should celebrate the other flora, fauna & funga that might thrive in vineyards, assisting in greater long term sustainability, starting with wines like these:

Chinese Zodiac Vintages:

This ancient astrology system follows a 12 year cycle. We always have good availability of 12 year old wine, and sometimes 24 year old wine to celebrate with, each Chinese Lunar New Year. The sentimental among us can also find great pleasure in exploring other years of our birth signs. For example, a 1959 born Pig may once have relished 1959s annually, but today they are far more likely to find interest, availability and value in waning 1983s, 1995s a point, 2007s, and 2019s with their flush of the fresh fruit of youth. It's a good a reason as any to focus in on certain vintages.

By the way, the old notion of great vintages to revere and terrible vintages to avoid, whilst once true, is absolutely no longer the case. Massive developments in farming and winemaking mean that top producers make wonderful wine every year. Due to the weather, there is just more or less of it. It is either more forward or potentially longer lived. (In fact, one might go as far as to suggest that some of the most talked about modern vintages simply risk being too much of a good thing, and are best avoided in some regions...)

Likewise, the old rule of not touching certain serious red wines for ten years (e.g. top Bordeaux,) due to them being almost unpleasantly structured, no longer stands. As apart from a few unreconstructed traditionalists, most all the top European wines now drink well in youth. That said, a lot start to soften and develop at 8-10 years, and 12 years is as good a moment as any to enjoy most serious red wine. They will still possess a memory of the fruit and energy of youth, plus some of the softening, developmental benefits of time, without risk of 'undue age'.

SLOW WINE GUIDE:

snail / chiocciola

Symbol awarded to a winery that we particularly like for the way it interprets Slow Food values (sensory perceptions, territory, environment, identity) and also offers good value for money.

bottle

Symbol awarded to a winery whose bottles present excellent quality at our tastings.

the notation on producers signals:

5* b+d
4* b+d
3* b+d
2* b+d
1* b+d

Exceptional producers, those which represent the absolute summit of quality in France and in the world.
Producers of very high quality, those which are the glories of the French vineyard estate.
A production of high quality, able to serve as a reference in it's sector.
A serious, recommendable production, but with more regularity.
A serious, recommendable production, conforming to what one has the right to expect from the appellation(s).

RVF's LE GUIDE VERT, 2016:
LaRVF.com

starred domains:

These represent the excellence of the french vineyard. The best terroirs exploited by the greatest vigneron. To taste their wine is always a magic moment.

These very great domaines, often possessing fabulous terroirs, are the key players who, by the consistency and excellence of their production, should figure in the cellar of well-informed amateurs

Stars of the future, or vigneron of a good level of quality, you will not be deceived whilst tasting wines of these domaines.

CLIVE COATES MW:
 'the best'

from The Wines of Burgundy, 2008:

A domaine which will not only have significant holdings in grand cru vineyards, but which will consistently make very high quality wines from them. Naturally they will ask high prices. These domaines are rare.

 'a fine domaine'

Again, it will have fine vineyard holdings. High results can be expected and will be priced accordingly.

* 'a very good domaine'

The customer can safely buy wines with confidence here.
