Terms and conditions of offer - February 2025:

- Prices. All are quoted in £GBP IB per pack of 12, six, three or one 75cl bottle(s), UNLESS OTHERWISE STATED. All prices are quoted in-bond, excluding delivery, current UK duty and VAT.
- Sizes. HVS refers to 37.5cl half bottles, MAGS 150cl magnums, JERO 300cl jeroboams, IMP 600cl imperials etc.
- Colour. All wines are red/rouge, unless otherwise stated as BLANC, i.e. white burgundy, or ROSÉ.
- £POA means Price On Application.
- Further charges. Duty and VAT are due at prevailing rates if and when wine is cleared from LCB's bonded warehouse. Onward delivery charges to customers' delivery addresses or bonds will be charged at cost.
- Subject to availability. All wines are subject to availability, and prices are subject to alteration. Many wines will have to be allocated.
- Terms. Payment with confirmed order please – allocations will be confirmed mid to end of March.
- NB: if any wine ordered is not available due to events outside of our control, and/or due to the negligence of any 3rd party (producer, transporter, warehousekeeper) then RFW will only refund in full any monies paid by the client, and only to value of amounts paid by clients at the time of ordering.
- NB: we expect to honour case sizes as offered below. However, very occasionally producers send us differently packed cases, which is outside of our control. If this happens we will try to rectify the issue with the relevant producer, to try to repack the wines in the originally offered box sizes. But if we cannot do this, then RFW are not liable for different case size(s), and/or split cases.
- E&OE.
- VAT #: GB 199 6989 03 | AWRS #: XBAW00000100039

Prologue:

Put simply, preference in allocations will be given to clients who seek to buy widely across the range of wines from newer producers, as well as historic names. Thank you.

What happens next?

- Please send us an email with your wish list via Word / Excel / email body
- Raeburn collect together all interest and start to make allocations and send out invoices from the end of Feb.
- Any late queries out with Burgundy EP season, but before shipping, will be dealt with as per the offer where possible.

Raeburn 2023 Brief Vintage Notes from Zubair & David:

To the comprehensive BIVB REPORT (below) we can add the following salient points:

There are a lot of lovely, transparent, high quality wines, in white and red. In the middle to top echelons of producers, which is what we are talking about here, the producers are making the wines that they want to make, in their house style. And as they say, the house (style) always wins. Within one producer's cellar one can look at hierarchies of commune, level, vine age etc. But between different producers, it makes no sense to compare their Chambolles – they are truly apples and pears. The culmination of each producer's interpretative work during the seasons usually dominates more down-to-earth concerns such as terroir. 2023? A cross between 2019 (drama) and 2017 (freshness and precision), to keep things recent.

Please note: we have decided not to offer certain estates en-primeur this vintage and will offer them later when wines have been shipped.

BIVB Vintage Report 2023 Vintage (in brief):

As in the past, we quote (in brief) the Bureau Interprofessionnel des Vins de Bourgogne (BIVB) official reports on the vintage. It's a good general introduction to the weather events of the year, and their consequences.

INTRO:

It's been some time since Bourgogne enjoyed two consecutive years with above-average volumes. 2023, coming hot on the heels of 2022, has put a smile on the faces of winegrowers and wine merchants: the cellars are (almost) full again, and the quality is there every time. That's the other great thing about this vintage - despite unstable weather conditions over the summer, the end result is stunning. The Chardonnay, Aligoté and Sauvignon grapes reached full maturity in perfect condition, while retaining enough freshness to live up to the reputation of Bourgogne white wines. And Pinot Noir proved, once again, that it is king of the grape varieties. After a rigorous sorting process, facilitated by high yields, some very fine juices were extracted, with a great variety of aromas. The result is expressive, fruity wines with beautiful aromatic profiles, for both white and red. There's something for all tastes, as this vintage offers a range of profiles linked to the choice of harvest dates. We look forward to exploring the 2023 vintage!

LES ROUGES:

The red wines are expressive and open up quickly. They have delicious flavours, in some cases reminiscent of fresh red fruits, such as raspberries, or with aromas of dark fruits, such as blackberries, and even spices for some wine profiles. On the palate, they have a lovely density, with a silky tannic structure. During vinification, conditions were just right for good colour extraction. The deep, intense colours of the wine are superb.

LES BLANCS:

Everyone in Bourgogne is unanimous: it's "a great year for white wine!" The ripe, healthy, well-balanced grapes have produced wines that stand out for their richness and wonderful opulence, without excess. The wines are aromatic, evoking gorgeous ripe white fruits such as pear and peach. Despite the very hot weather at the start of the harvest, beautiful balances have been maintained.

Queries - please contact us regarding:

-Up to date accurate details of vineyard holdings & histories of some leading growers

- Vegan compatible finishing of wine. We asked growers in 2017 re this, and have many answers

-Our favourite wines, discoveries, and recommendations – whether for drinking or cellaring

-Back vintages available for drinking and/or cellaring

-Please note we will not be offering all the estates we normally offer this vintage due to availability of back vintages of the same estates. We will offer the 2023 wines from these particular estates when they have been shipped. Any such estate will be highlighted below.

Notes on the market:

We can only repeat (again) from previous reports that it is perhaps time, in our opinion, for Burg lovers to look at some of our "under the radar" producers who remain great value and are, perhaps, the superstars of the future. This is especially true in this vintage of very much smaller production, where allocations are inevitably greatly reduced. The Côte de Beaune produces wines as good as much in the Côte de Nuits, at a fraction of the price, and perhaps with added finesse. Some of these wines will also age spectacularly well, as they come from great terroirs. There are also a number of great Côtes de Nuits producers who merit attention from all Burgundy lovers and who still remain sensibly priced, when compared with the increasing prices of the most famous producers. And why ignore wonderful generic Bourgogne and village wines from the best and other fine producers: these deliver great drinking pleasure and remain great value. We will always seek out new and upcoming producers and these deserve your interest and support - fashionable terroirs or not.

NB - REGARDING GENERALISATIONS: We do not like to generalize for all producers in Burgundy so our thoughts below are based on the producers we usually work with and feature in this offer. We have not included a great many individual tasting notes below, to avoid endless repetition.

NB - REGARDING ALLOCATIONS: As demand is high for certain wines and quantities are so limited (especially in this, yet another small vintage) so we do intend to allocate certain wines and we will look favorably upon those who take an interest in wines across the whole spectrum/ range, rather than just only the top tier premier cru/grand cru wines. We also say this because the quality of the generic and villages wines that we are offering is very high.

NB- REGARDING OLDER VINTAGES: For those interested, we still have some back vintages available from the producers featured below. Please do ask us for further information and availability on all these aforementioned vintages, and a few even older available vintages. (See our past offers for these vintages for further background information.) Time to explore?

We regularly re-taste a lot of recent vintages, notably in Burgundy in late November and early December. E.g. 2011s are now drinking nicely; 2012, starting to drink; and the very special 2013 and 2014s which are even more wonderful than we described before! For some watchers, 2016 is one of the greatest vintage in a generation, and is now (finally) starting to open. The 2017 vintage, hitherto a joy on the fresh fruit, is now closing. The 2018; 2019 and 2020 vintages are, in general, closing up in bottle but these all have wonderful density for long ageing. The 2021 vintage remains greatly underrated for its classic and transparent Pinot Noir and Chardonnay character and clear expression of the different terroirs and hierarchies of each terroir

Focus section - Côte d'Or upper slopes – ‘colles et saxa’:

We frequently exhort clients, collector-investors and grands amateurs alike, 'to try other things' - be that growers, villages, terroirs, etc. And yet we always omitted to shortlist a few things we most believe in. After all, no one has time to glean through 20 or so pages for hints. So this is a collection of some of our favourite crus on the offer: the upper slopes of the Côte d'Or. In Virgil's Georgics there is the great line 'Bacchus amat colles et saxa durissima' - 'Baccus loves the hills, and the hardest of rocks'. These are those terroirs: higher up (300m to 400m), steeper (to 35%), with less available water, less top soil (down to 10cm), over less-fractured mother rock, in this case the various limestone types of Burgundy. The other key factor is diversity of aspect.

They give us some of the most thrilling, distinct wines made in Burgundy today. They may not be the most obvious, the most flateur, the immediately grandiose, but rather linear, focused, concentrated, high tension, structured pinot noir & chardonnay in youth. They are some of the crus that most repay mid+ term aging, slowly becoming Burgundian with time. And almost all are sensible money.

Yes, they may have been less consistent in the old days - these sites do call for more interpretation in farming and winemaking. Now that precision farming exists, and has been extended across top vignerons' estates, this is no longer an issue. Across the Côte, common names include Roche & Roches (rock & rocks), Bois (woods), Monts (hills), the historically marginal location being in the title. This accounts for some being among the last vineyards to be replanted after phylloxera: they are usually the furthest from the village, and the least productive.

In France, btw, the notion of a grand amateur is the highest rank of connoisseurship. It is accorded to those purely into something for the love, untainted by either profession or money. In the end, these are the kind of wines that grands amateurs aspire to. Collector-investors also need something to keep and drink, regardless of the cut and thrust of the business of wine... (This focus selection started in the EP for 2021s.)

NB we have back vintages available of many of these wines: just ask if you want a mixed 6/12-pack of whites &/or reds, to check out the track record to date of these terroirs and house-styles.

Côte de Nuits based growers – from North to South:

ALEX MOLIN of A&JM MOLIN, FIXIN - Domaine-Molin.fr
www.facebook.com/domaine.molin/

An 8ha Organic and biodynamic-certified Fixin-based estate, created parcel by parcel since 1987. Ambient yeast ferments. Son Alex has taken over the running, having joined in 2004. Fixin, pronounced 'fissin', lies between Gevrey and Marsannay: it's one of the villages with the highest proportion of clay in Burgundy. 12 months élevage on the whites; 24 months élevage (i.e. relatively long) on the Mazy, both with 40-50% new casks. "Qui déguste un Fixin s'en souvient et revient." – "He who tastes a Fixin remembers and returns." Almost an acre of old-vines in Mazy Chambertin GC crowns the estate, now raised in Dom Laurent casks, which has been a joy to follow since starting with Molin on the 2016s & 2017s. JEAN FOURNIER, MARSANNAY – Domaine-Fournier.com

www.instagram.com/domainejeanfournier/ | www.facebook.com/domainejeanfournier/

Based in the northern Côte de Nuits. The immensely talented Laurent Fournier looks after this 17ha estate which includes a number of top vineyards in Marsannay. He also has some fabulous old vine terroirs outwith Marsannay, which are truly wonderful and offer great value for their high quality. The terrific Pernand 1C VV Les Vergelesses is a must, from 1ha planted 1951, with ~66% stems and only larger casks. An old neighbor in Marsannay retired, which his family didn't want to farm, so it came Laurent's way in 2017. Of the quality, Laurent says "c'est le mystère du vin." Croix Violettes we follow massively. It's a historic cru in Brochon on the North edge of Gevrey, South of Fixin, on the Route des Grand Crus itself. The vines were planted in 1937 & 1946 on clay-limestone by the convent. Millerandé, average yield just 25-30hl/ha, fermented with 50-75% stems. Sadly 50% of Croix Violettes was due to be ripped out in 2022 due to productivity – the good news being that there will still be 50% left for us, before he can replant. (The 2011, a bargain today, has recently come around and is easily one of the wines of the vintage...) FYI Croix Violettes and the other climats of Brochon that are not in Gevrey are being incorporated into Fixin from 2024. Champ Forey VV BLANC is from 0.8ha planted 1921 & 1945 on limestone with no clay, in Marsannay. Fermented and raised in 600L demi-muids, it's mostly aligoté, it includes approx. 5% melon de Bourgogne. Laurent is a key player in the ongoing 'de-barrique-ification' of Burgundy, as well as in Les Aligoteurs: www.aligoteurs.wordpress.com | www.facebook.com/LesAligoteurs/ | Organic. NB We are blessed with reserves of back vintages: do enquire re availability and pricing. (Zubair & David)

LAURENT FOURNIER ON HIS AMAZING CROIX VIOLETTES VIEILLES VIGNES ROUGE:

"This cuvee of Côtes de Nuits Villages comes from one of the appellation's most esteemed terroirs: Croix Violettes. This plot, which has a very old reputation, is located at the foot of the castle and convent of Château de Brochon near Gevrey. The thickness of earth attains a rare delicacy (only a few feet). Bedrock is immediately present, and gives the wine a striking minerality, a great length, saline and very original. Very old vines which are also affected by the fan-leaf virus (court-noue) disease. This disease can occur in two forms. Here it makes the vine suffer, which makes it produce very few grapes, however, grapes of a very high quality."

THE WINES:

Croix Violettes Vieilles Vignes, Cotes de Nuits Villages - Extra-ordinary wine of great complexity and depth.	£318 / SIX
Considering the consistent profound quality, this is one of THE truly outstanding values in red Burgundy.	MAGS £648 / SIX

MICHEL GUILLARD, GEVREY-CHAMBERTIN

A fabulous if small 5ha 'old-school' estate in Gevrey. Michel's family works 'organic- uncertified' for decades with mostly very old vines. The wines are pure, elegant, sumptuous with well-defined terroir and character. Around 50% new oak and low yields. These are concentrated and quite superbly balanced wines where the village wines (from 60 to 85 years old vines could easily be mistaken for wines of premier cru level. Les Corbeaux 1C from >85 yr old vines on the Côte is a fantastic and age-worthy example of this structured terroir. The less well known terroir Poissenot 1C on the Combe produces wines of great charm and depth of fruit here, with great complexity and purity. NB: NO EN-PRIMEUR HERE. We are offering below his terrific 2022 vintage - not be missed and excellent value for such high quality (something not so easy to find in Burgundy these days!). Back vintages from 2015/16 & onwards are also available on request - just ask.

DOMAINE MAUME-SIBLAS, GEVREY-CHAMBERTIN

www.instagram.com/domaines_siblas_maume/

The legend that is Maume is back! In 2017 Bertrand and Patricia reclaimed 1.12ha of the legendary old-vine Maume Gevrey parcels in En Pallud, and the superbly situated 1er Cru Les Cherbaudes. En Pallud touches the village, below Mazis-Chambertin GC on deeper soil, with the oldest vines ~70yrs. Cherbaudes is a tiny 2.98ha 1C below Clos de Beze / Mazis, next to Chapelle-Chambertin GCs, on red soil with plate-sized limestone rocks. The vines are thought to be the first replanting after phylloxera: keeping 'repiquage' in mind, they average >80yrs. (These parcels were leased out to Marchand-Tawse after the sale of Domaine Maume, from 2011-2016.) Patricia (Bertrand's ex-wife) is very much head of the family and wine production: they look forwards to their son joining down the line. These are unique, quasi-priceless 'soul' wines for want of a better word, with enormous personality and terroir expression. RÉNÉ LECLERC, GEVREY-CHAMBERTIN - Domaine-ReneLeclerc.com www.facebook.com/CaveauReneLeclerc/

Since the 2012s, a new and exciting 10ha 'organic-uncertified' addition for us. Francois Leclerc, his wife Kyoko and their son now look after this historic estate, having taken over from his father, the legendary René Leclerc. They have an excellent array of top Gevrey vineyards, which historically included a long lease on some of the rare Griotte-Chambertin GC (just 2.73ha in total, shared with Ponsot.) These are terrific wines full of charm and personality. The vines are mostly old, the winemaking traditional at its very best, the oak un-invasive. These wines show wonderful finesse and purity of fruit, age effortlessly. An estate that merits greater attention. NB We are blessed with reserves of back vintages: do enquire re availability and pricing. (By Zubair & David)

DOMAINE DES LAMBRAYS, MOREY ST. DENIS – Lambrays.com

An 8ha organic domaine, with the near-monopole of Grand Cru Clos des Lambrays at its heart. Long term regisseur Thierry Brouin has retired after an amazing stint from 1979 to 2018, rehabilitating the vineyard, taking it organic, and truly re-establishing Lambrays as a distinctly beautiful Grand Cru, leading to it's sale in 2014. The highly talented Jacques Devauges has taken over bringing with him a wealth of experience working previously at a number of top estates with a diversity of great terroirs. The estate is being expanded, with new 1C vineyards in Morey, Nuits, Vosne added in 2022, and more to follow... (By David.) Full offer to follow in March 2025 - please ask if interested.

DOMAINE CHANTAL REMY, MOREY – Domaine-Chantal-Remy.com

Yet again, a wonderful range of wines which show, as always, their terroirs extremely well. There is the usual lovely quality of ripe, silky tannins. Florian, Chantal's son, has made again very fine range of wines at their tiny ~1.25ha domain. Part of the historic Remy estate, Philippe Remy was sold in 1989, forming the heart of the new Domaine Leroy. Sadly, succession then split Domaine Louis Remy three ways in 2008, leaving them with their small but rather beautiful holdings. NB We are blessed with reserves of back vintages: do enquire re availability and pricing. (By Zubair & David)

www.instagram.com/domainearlaud/

Whilst others might label these wines the same as their Domaine sourced wines and keep things simple for the market, Cyprien is not simply just another vigneron. Cyprien Arlaud (previously called & Arlaud / Et Arlaud) is his stunning "negoce" biodynamic label, farmed and harvested by his team just like Domaine Arlaud. These brilliant wines are very much true to Cyprien's vision, seeking the same fabulous richly ethereal qualities. OKA is an Arlaud draught horse. (By Zubair & David)

LOUIS BOILLOT, by CLEMENT BOILLOT-BARTHOD, CHAMBOLLE

www.instagram.com/domainelouisboillotetfils/

Clement Boillot-Barthod, with father Louis Boillot & mother Ghislaine Barthod. Clement overseas viticulture in both domains/labels, and took over vinification duties in 2019/2020. They share the 'new' family cellar built 2002 in Chambolle, when Louis left father Lucien Boillot's business to start his own label. There is an exchange of ideas here: one can see the influence of Louis on Ghislaine, and vice versa. These all come from, in general, very old vines. There is a big spread of vineyards totalling 7ha which Louis has inherited from the many divisions of family land, so common in Burgundy. The wines have great purity and balance with stunning finesse and complexity. There is a great winemaker working here. Precision and terroir character, similar in quality and house-style to the Barthod label. Louis and son Clement are now one of the top

CLEMENT BOILLOT-BARTHOD, MOULIN À VENT

www.instagram.com/domainelouisboillotetfils/

A new line started in 2014 by Louis Boillot and his family, and the first to be put into son Clement's name. Made in the similar Burgundian manner as their Côte d'Or wines, with longer elevation (like Mee Godard) than is common in Beaujolais. The wines deliver enormous character and vineyard terroir, with great finesse and balance. However they hail from various types of decomposed granite, and the grape is Gamay. These wines will also age very well – like those of Mee Godard, made in a not dissimilar way. Just to say that 2022 is a stellar vintage and these wines are quite extraordinary with fantastic ageing potential and, of course, they remain fantastic value for the quality! JJ ARCHAMBAUD, VOSNE-ROMANÉE - JJ-Archambaud.fr

New for Raeburn in 2024. Archambaud is the modern 5ha iteration of a centuries old family estate. From 1946 until 2004 it was known as Domaine Francois Gerbet. In 2004 one of Francois' daughters, Marie-Odile Archambaud Gerbet founded J&J Archambaud with husband, Jean-Pierre and their sons, Jean-Philippe and Jean-Christophe ('J&J'). In 2013 they progressed into conversion to organics, followed by 1st Organic certification in 2016, with total certification by 2019. BD farming has followed. Bunches are destemmed, flow is by gravity, new oak is kept down to 25%. Elevation is 14-18mths, and the wines are bottled unfinned and unfiltered. NB: NO EN-PRIMEUR HERE: we are now offering the 2022 vintage.

THE WINES:

- Bourgogne Hautes Côtes de Nuits. 3.5ha VV planted in Au Defoi, above Nuits and Vosne, in lieu-dit Au Defoi. The clay-limestone soils result from the alteration of the limestones and marls of the substrate, with a very marked ferruginous (iron) content. The soil is shallow and very stony. The vineyard was planted in the 1960s-70s.
- Vosne-Romanée. 3 lieux dits with old vines planted 1939 to 1964. Some sections replanted 1983 to 2000. All EW orientation
- Vosne-Romanée Aux Réas (vv). Planted 1947 & 1948.
- Vosne-Romanée 1er Cru Les Petits Monts. The plot is planted across the steep slope, oriented NS, planted 1934 to 1935. The soil is clay-limestone, very stony, with very good drainage.
- Echezeaux Grand Cru. The plot is located in "Les Treux", on a brown limestone soil. It was planted in 1935, and the western portion replanted in 1983.

DOMAINE JP GUYON, VOSNE-ROMANÉE - DomaineGuyon-Vosne.com

Jean-Pierre and Isabelle Guyon run this very exciting 6ha organic certified domaine: extra-ordinary wines of great complexity since around 2013. The balance, concentration, purity, freshness and impeccable quality of tannins in the red wines is of the very highest level. As always, this was a revelatory tasting: the organic vineyard work and winemaking is of the very highest level, after a decades of hard graft in field and cellar to get to this point. Since 2019 the vines started to receive tressage at low vine height, with leaf coverage to the South and leaf plucking to the North. The reds are raised in custom specification slowly formed untoasted casks, which leave basically no oak notes on the reds. The Côte de Beaune reds are as good as the Vosnes, will all age very well. Both the Blancs have some altitude, and are vinified in seasoned casks. Nuits BLANC Les Argillats is South-facing Gouges clone, aka Pinot Noir-Blanc planted at 250-300m. Morey St. Denis BLANC La Bidaude is Chardonnay from mature vines >35yrs at 320-360m. NB MOST REDS ARE ON ALLOCATION. CLIENTS FOR WHITES &/OR CDB ROUGES WILL GET PRIORITY ON CDN ROUGES. (By Zubair and David)

An exciting addition to Raeburn with the 2018s. Francois Legros is fortunate to have a patrimony of mature and old vines throughout their desirable terroirs of CDB whites and CDN reds, which hail from his family and his wife's. Their daughters Laure and Charlotte have also joined, along with husband David, giving them a serious proportion of family members in the team, and an ensuing uplift in quality. Legros also possess an unusually broad flight of 1Cs, even for Burgundy – see list below. The vines are 'practicing-organic' agriculture, certified sustainable HVE level 3. There is a strict berry by berry selection at harvest before ambient yeast fermentation. Whites are cask fermented, usually 25% new oak, raised

www.instagram.com/domainefollinarbelet/

This 4.5ha domaine continues to produce some of the finest and most exciting wines in the Côte d'Or, deserves serious attention. Franck Follin achieves great finesse in his wines and these show superb depth of fruit with clear expression of terroir. His are refined and sensual wines from Aloxé and Corton – hard to imagine from such normally more structured and tannic 'cool' terroirs. Hence why Franck focuses on the silky side of Pinot – compared to some people's oaked-up extracted body-builders. Wonderfully pure and refined wines with concentration a beautiful texture and elegance. The recent run of vintages has been quite wonderful with great wines even in the more difficult vintages – one of the key tests of a vigneron. Franck started the domaine in 1990, following geology studies. 1er Cru holdings arrived 1993, and the amazing deal that gave them RSV and CC came along in 1996. In 2014-2016 they planted 0.15ha of Pernand en Caradeux 1C BLANC & 0.3ha of their own Corton Charlemagne; in 2017 Franck's son Simon joined. NB We are blessed with reserves of back vintages: do enquire re availability and pricing. (By Zubair & David.)

LUCIEN CAMUS-BRUCHON, SAVIGNY-LES-BEAUNE

Luc's son Guillaume has fully taken over and this domaine continues to make very fine wines from 9ha sustainably farmed old vines and excellent terroir, whilst offering outstanding value. Sadly Luc passed away recently but Guillaume continues the great work. The wines show pure, ripe, supple fruit with great harmony and balance. They have a wonderful elegance and are approachable young but with the ability to age extremely well. Lavieres 1C is from 0.4ha VV South facing vines planted in 1960s, with deeper soil over flat limestones at 260-280m, giving 'length with elegance' (Guillaume). Whereas Narbantons 1C is from NE facing VV planted 1950s, on very thin topsoil over clay-limestone: more long lived. Generally speaking, open, supple fruit, superb quality of tannins, and great value. The beautiful Savigny quote is 'Les vins de Savigny sont theologique, nourrissant et morbifuge' - 'The wines of Savigny are theological, nourishing and death-defying.' NB We are blessed with reserves of back vintages: do enquire re availability and pricing. (By David)

HENRI BOILLOT, VOLNAY & MEURSAULT - Henri-Boillot.com

It now goes without saying that Henri Boillot has yet again produced some of greatest red, AS WELL AS the already sought after white wines of the vintage. From 2017 two major developments took place. Firstly, they have sourced a new hydraulic press, one of the finest pieces of equipment a winemaker can call upon. Secondly, the reds are now all barrel-fermented, mostly whole cluster, in 350L & 500L casks with wide-apertures to enable grape-flow, of Henri's own design.

This is the simply THE greatest way to integrate flavour of young red wines and new casks, especially in small-batches. Many have tried it before, mostly all stopping because it used to be more work, calls for a cooper to visit the cellar. Of all the world's fine wine regions which employ small casks, Burgundy is THE epicentre for experimenting with slightly larger formats, with Henri Boillot at the heart of it, having started back in 1996. Lastly, in 2019, Henri purchased the nearby organic Domaine Henri Darnat, including the 0.74ha Meursault 1C monopole Clos Richemont VV. Henri's label was only created in 2005: prior to 2004, he vinified under his father's label, Domaine Jean Boillot. (By Zubair & David.)

THIERRY GLANTENAY, VOLNAY | www.instagram.com/domainethierryglantenay/

Glantenay started to bottle in the 50s, though until recently sold off most wine, to two of the most reputed "boutique" negoce in Burgundy. Son Thierry joined father Bernard in 2000 after engineering studies, taking control in 2005. The domaine is predominantly red: 7ha of old vines across Volnay and Pommard, with a wee spot of Puligny. They prune hard to take 35-40hl/ha at most, and the low yield combined with vine age gives Volnay wines with extra depth and Pommards with extra dimension to join the structure. Thierry works in lutte raisonnée, i.e. sustainable agriculture. So far, no anti-rot sprays, no herbicide: the soil is worked. The grapes are hand-picked, undergo natural fermentation, either de-stemmed OR with whole clusters in some wines, a little pigeage at the start, and no pumping. The wines see a small % of new where they can take it. The wines show their old-vine origins with depth and vinosity: older vintages tasted recently are all wonderfully classy and complex, yet are totally true to their vintage. A serious domaine. NB We are blessed with reserves of back vintages: do enquire re availability and pricing. (By David and Zubair.)

DOMAINE YVON CLERGET, VOLNAY - Domaine-Clerget.com

www.facebook.com/domaineclerget/ | www.instagram.com/domaine.clerget/

Famille Clerget have a long history in Volnay: according to records, the family are there since 1268. The current proprietor and wine-maker of this family is the young and dynamic Thibaud Clerget who is the twenty-eight generation of his family. In 2009 Yvon Clerget (Thibaud's father) decided to retire. Thibaud apprenticed under the great Henri Boillot and Domaine Hudelot-Noellat in Vosne. Upon finishing his studies, he returned to take over the family domaine: 2015 was his first proper vintage. Since then he has garnered a formidable reputation for wines of exquisite finesse and poise from what are normally very structured terroirs. This is a domaine to follow without hesitation. Farming is lutte raisonnée, with as little intervention as is required. Vines are, on average, around 50 years old with a lot much older. Winemaking and work in the cellar is traditional with a balanced use of new oak (never excessive) and yields are low, well-controlled giving wines of depth, concentration and complexity. It is the precise and meticulous work in the vineyards that allows the individual terroirs to really express themselves. NB ALL WINES ON ALLOCATION AND PRICES STILL TO BE ANNOUNCED.

MICHEL LAFARGE, VOLNAY – DomaineLafarge.fr

This 12ha domaine run by Frederic & Chantal Lafarge is on top form. Their old-vines from massale selections are cordon-trained, and cared for by biodynamic farming principles since early trials started 1990-1997. Wines see max.15-20% new oak, in a lo-fi cellar that dates back to 1200s. Simplicity itself. Yet these are some of the greatest, most age-worthy wines produced in Burgundy. They have always been pale, pre-modern, unreconstructed Burgundies, some of the very greatest wines in the Cote de Beaune, an easy match to the best in the Cote de Nuits. We do not believe that the Cote de Nuits always deserves higher scores, and we also have perfectly stored back vintages for those who want to deepen their cellars in this rich vein. Lafarge are THE producer who define the potential of Beaune 1C Rouge, via their bottlings of Greves and Aigrots. Sadly, Michel Lafarge passed away aged 91 in January 2020, having never really retired. He joined the domaine aged 18 in 1946, taking over in 1967, and continually expanded their holdings, with their justly famed focus on old vines and massale selection. Here's Clive Coates MW: back in 2008 'Michel Lafarge is one of the shrewdest winemakers in Burgundy, and a perfectionist.' Michel was joined by son Frederic in 1978, and grand-daughter Clothilde in 2018. (By Zubair & David.) NB MOST RED WINES ARE ON ALLOCATION. ALAIN GRAS, ST. ROMAIN - Domaine-Alain-Gras.com

Alain works very hard: his wines can be found in almost every three-star Michelin restaurant in France. His obsession outside of work is game shooting and fishing for the table, which comes in handy. Son Arthur joined in 2021. They used to blend many dozens of parcels from around St. Romain to make their balanced village white and red in around 20% new oak from their local cooper, in the family cellar at the highest part of old St. Romain. These are all really very fine, high-noted, food-flattering wines, and also remain excellent value. This exercise in restraint might be a 'priceless' model to many other Burgundy domaines... The Auxey (pronounced 'Oh-say') TVV has phenomenal intensity. NB we are blessed with reserves of back vintages of red, including many in MAGNUMS: do enquire re availability and pricing. (By Zubair and David.)

HENRI PRUDHON, ST AUBIN – Henri-Prudhon.fr

Prudhon are an excellent, reliable and great value sustainable estate - and great value! We usually focus on these two excellent terroirs which are less "sunny", higher up in altitude, which really aids with freshness and precision. Prudhon typify the wave of St. Aubin owning vigneron who manage crop and barrel-ferment sensitively with little new oak, which has given rise to St. Aubin's newfound status as a top village for whites in the Cote de Beaune. En Remilly 1C is a 0.27ha planted 1991 on the plateau above the Grands Crus of Puligny/Chassagne – it's creamy and fine. La Chateniere 1C is a tiny 0.11ha steep parcel of older vines planted in the 1960s, producing around just 800 bottles in a good year – it's more stony and mineral, with great harmony. These two wines are highly recommended and deliver terrific value for their excellent quality. (By Zubair and David.)

There is the extra-ordinary Chassagne Rouge VV, from a well-situated single vineyard of very old vines, well over 80 years old. DOMAINE ALEX MOREAU (ex-BERNARD) CHASSAGNE-MONTRACHET

www.instagram.com/domainealexmoreau/

Domaine Alex Moreau rose from the ashes (not literally) of Domaine Bernard Moreau, with the 2021s. The thoughtful Alexandre (Alex) and Benoit having first joined the family label in 1995 & 1999, respectively. Of course, it remains an excellent source of top white and red Burgundy. This ‘organic-uncertified’ domaine continually impresses us for its considered and meticulous approach to both vineyard work and winemaking. Both red and white are very pure with ripe, crystalline fruit and clear, focused expression of each terroir. There is great attention to detail: this domaine has become one of the best sources of wine in this village, and this Côte, with reputation following suit. It was a previously a “domaine to follow without hesitation”: the new reduced size will see it very much oversubscribed. (By Zubair & David)

DOMAINE JEAN-MARC & ANNE-MARIE VINCENT, SANTENAY

www.instagram.com/domainejmvincent/

Jean-Marc & Anne-Marie Vincent are one of the great couples of the Cote d’Or, like Alain & Isabelle Hazard. Or Henri & Marcelle Mayer in their day. Their joint ‘secret’ is that their 5ha vineyards are almost garden sized, which the wives are in charge of, and can stay on top of. The men help in the vines, and run the cellar. Jean-Marc is very focused, widely read, and gives great thought to his work, to what, and why they do things - both in the vineyards and in the cellar. Since taking over the vines in 1998 they have been through organics, biodynamics, and since over 5 years been more inspired by Fukuoka and forest-farming. But what does this mean in practice? Well, it means a living, free-range progressive reading of biodynamics, rather than blindly following the ideas of one lecture delivered in 1924. The vine density is very high, with the vines allowed to grow tall. Tressage. Yields are low. He uses ambient yeast, and only clarifies if the wine doesn’t fall bright. There is not much new oak, now down to 10%, and slowly increasing in size. The stone cellar smells sweetly of white Burg, not of damp, mould, or new oak. In his mind, Jean-Marc wants to make the greatest wine in the world – and if he doesn’t – it is only because his terroir will not allow. Consequently, we also consider him to be one of the very greatest farmer wine-makers of the Côte d’Or... He also makes superb wines with his small negoce operation, based on fruit from friends. Santenay now has a ‘domaine-phare’, necessary for the visibility of any village, which has now been noted by the Burgundy watching press. Elder daughter Anaïs has recently joined her parents. AMI WINES, PARIS L'HOPITAL, CÔTE DE BEAUNE - DomaineAmi.com

www.instagram.com/ami.wine/

AMI wines is Willy Roulendes, the wine-making genius behind Clos du Moulin aux Moines, along with his friend Paul Perarnau. Cellar at Paris L'Hopital in the vallée des Maranges. Initially self-branded a 'négoce paysan' weekend operation back in 2015 based on bio-sources, it now also has a growing domaine, including young vines planted at 400m, among the highest in Burgundy. Organic, organic-in-conversion and practising-biodynamic vines, ambient yeast, additive free winemaking, low added SO2. Fabulous, precise, contemporary winemaking. Very 'now', clean and pure with terrific expression and concentration. The new cloud (or heart?) label on the Bourgogne wines is one of the very best label designs in the world, let alone Burgundy. (By David and Zubair)

www.instagram.com/domaine.g.et.x.besson/

Xavier and Guillemette Besson own 8.4ha, mostly of Givry, having inherited the estate in 1989 from Xavier's parents. 25 year old son Henri-Vital Besson joined in 2017, taking the domaine into the future. Most of the vines are in the immediate area around the house, with Les Grands Prétans vineyard basically their backyard. Being of a manageable size makes it easier to work by hand, with an aim for low yields and ripe fruit. The vineyards are grown in clay-rich soil, with a deep bedrock of limestone, from vines that are 30 yrs old on average. Fermentation is done with indigenous yeasts after a brief 3-5 day cold soak. Aging takes place for 12 months in a combination of large 500 litre and traditional 228 litre barriques, around 50% new. The combination of mature vines, conscientious vineyard work, and reasonable yields, all contribute to the crowd pleasing, balanced wines that Besson produces. Farming superb vineyards like 'Les Grands Prétans' and 'Les Bois Gautiers' both in Givry and their old vines in Beaune, Besson always provides superb Burgundy value: concentrated and densely expressive with brilliant perfume, heady fruit, and a silky mouth feel. By way of historic reference, the domaine possesses two buildings on the national register of historic monuments. The 17th Century chai has a dramatic vaulted roof, 45m long and over 6m high, thought to be unique in Burgundy for its grandeur. NB We are blessed with reserves of back vintages: do enquire re availability and pricing. (By David)

KEY VINEYARDS:

-Cuvée Amelie BLANC: 0.5ha mature vines >30yrs

-Haut Colombier ROUGE: 2.2ha ~35yrs by the cellar, a monopole within Givry Les Petits Pretans; deep & stony

-Grands Pretans 1C: 1.5ha ~35yrs SE facing (below Clos Salomon)

-Bois Gautiers 1C: 1ha replanted 2009, SE facing, very low yielding, on argilo-calcaire, with small stones

-Beaune Les Champs Pimont 1C: 0.9ha ~55yrs, massale selection in stony clay-rich terroir

THE WINES:

Givry 1er Cru Grandes Vignes – NEW cuvee: old vines with depth and perfume and concentration. Mineral and fine. £126 / SIX

Givry 1er Cru Les Bois Gautiers - Superbly placed 1ha parcel replanted by the Bessons with low-yielding Pinot Noir. £126 / SIX

A wonderfully perfumed, floral, complex and very elegant. Terrific value.

They practice biodynamic farming of high density, small-berry Pinot Fin selections in red. The yields are low: they prune for a max of 35-40hl/ha in white, 25-30hl/ha in red. (In 2003 he took just 12hl/ha, in 2011 under 5hl/ha after hail.) Hand harvest with triage in the vines, de-stem, circa one week maceration for Pinot, a practice started in 2003, ambient yeast.

This basically means a good pre-ferment soak, then basket press, and most of the fermentation occurring in open wooden fermenters, before elevage in approximately 30% new barriques, which one cannot taste. He seldom racks, and bottles with high residual CO₂ (circa 600mg/l) and low SO₂ with just 2g/hl, i.e. 20mg/l at bottling. 'Je ne veut pas extraire, je ne veux pas corriger' he says simply. The new wines come out all star bright, juicy and mineral. Why would a wine lover buy a lesser grower (or negociant) in a famed terroir, and get little realisation of albeit grander potential, than buy Hasard with their 100% realisation rate? Here, everything tastes a step – or two – grander than the label suggests...

Young, the reds benefit from decanting and large pinot glasses, and the open bottles hold for over a week. The wines are true to the best attributes of the vintage. The production in a "normal healthy vintage" is 18,000 bottles per year. Please see below for more notes regarding the different wines/terroirs below plus the more recent vintages.

The Hasards initially started in 1996, as non-Burgundians, in the still unheard of Côte du Couchois to the West of the Chalonnaise and made thrilling wines, only to decide that it was too off the beaten track: no one visited! Alain's vinification practice was however learned there, and by 2003 they were buying land in the Chalonnaise, selling in the Couchois. They now have some 6ha mostly situated in the Chalonnaise, plus new plantings in Monthelie in the Côte de Beaune, and five children. The secret, if it is still one, is that Isabelle looks after the vines (and kitchen garden), and Alain the cellar plus vines. This is also how Jean-Marc Vincent of Santenay pulls the rabbit out of the hat in each vintage, and someone else rather more famous in his time. (OK, Jaye.) There are very, very few as gifted in the Côte d'Or itself... Alain is also a rare vigneron to have a lovely disarming laugh and lightness of touch – a generosity and charm fully reflected in his wines.

SAUMAIZE-MICHELIN, VERGISSON (Fuissé) - Saumaize-Michelin.com

A fabulous range of whites, as is to be expected in this yet another great vintage from this superb 9ha domaine, one of the best in Pouilly-Fuissé, maybe in all Burgundy. Roger & family's biodynamic (uncertified) vineyard work is meticulous with great attention to detail, and he also works as naturally as possible so that the roots of the vines go as deep as possible for extra complexity. These wines will drink well young but have the concentration and balance to age well too. The wines show the different terroirs extremely well, whilst retaining amazing purity. Most wines below have been vinified and aged in cask, max 25% new. 2020 was the first vintage of the new Pouilly Fuissé Premier Cru (1C) classification, which here includes Clos Sur la Roche, Maréchaudes, Vers Cras and Les Crays. (By Zubair & David)

Mâcon Vergisson Sur la Roche BLANC	£105 / SIX
St. Veran BLANC	£90 / SIX
St. Veran Les Crêches BLANC - A top terroir. Superb concentration, aerien complexity and wonderful finesse.	£105 / SIX
